ADMINISTRATION GROUP TURNS AGAINST FARM BILL WITH ITS DEBENTURE PLAN

Parliament Is Dissolved By Proclamation Of King

BOGNOR, England, May 10.—(UP)—King George signed the proclamation dissolving parliament, today, immediately after word that the House of Commons had been prorogued had been received over an open telephone from parliament.

Inasmuch as it was constitutionally impossible to dissolve the parliament until after prorogation, arrangements were made whereby Sir Maurice Hankey, clerk of the privy council, could rush from Bognor, where the king is recuperating from his long illness, back to London with the signed proclamation of dissolution.

The lord chancellor then announced in the House of Lords that parliament was prorogued until May 24.

The king's speech touched on all political matters, but more particularly on the recent preparatory disarmament confer-

Violence Again Breaks Out In Textile Area

Union Leader's Home Dynamited at Stony Creek; None Injured

ELIZABETHTON, Tenn., May 10.—(UP)—Violence broke out anew in the textile strike area today when the home of Mack Elliott, former mechanic at the American Glanzstoff corporation plant, was dynamited and wrecked.

Adj. Gen. W. C. Boyd and a detail of troops guarding the American Glanzstoff plants here rushed to the scene at Stony Creek, a few miles distant, and placed a guard around the wreckage.

Elliott, his wife and baby, were not in the house, having spent the night at the home of a friend here.

This was the second time within two weeks that Elliott has escaped being a bombing victim, according to Sheriff J. M. Moreland, who told the United Press he expected to make several arrests soon in connection with the affair.

Previously, a stick of dynamite was thrown into Elliott's automobile while he was driving along the highway. Elliott, according to Moreland, snuffed out the fuse just in time.

Elliott has been one of the moving spirits in the textile workers' strike and is one of the leaders of the union, which is seeking recognition in the Glanzstoff plant.

New Report On Reparations To Be Drafted

PARIS, May 10.—(UP)—The British delegation to the conference of reparations experts announced tonight that an entirely new report on the conference would be drafted in collaboration between Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, chief German delegate, and Sir Josiah Stamp, head of the British delegation.

The new report would include the German reservation to the Owen D. Young compromise plan. It was interpreted as a move which forced the Germans to put their reservations in writing. Work on the new report will continue until Wednesday.

Final Vote On Measure Will Come Monday

Whips of Warring Factions See Passage with Provision Included

BY PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, May 10.—(UP)—Administration forces in the senate are turning against the farm bill because it includes the disputed debenture provision and they propose to vote against the measure when it comes to a final vote Monday.

On the other hand the Democrats, solid almost to a man, together with the mid-western debenturists, whom Senator Fess has called "pseudo-Republicans," intend to support the bill. They will be joined by five or six Republicans who voted against the debenture provision but who do not wish to jeopardize the legislation.

After the final complex overturn of the situation the whips of both factions agreed in their polls today that the measure undoubtedly would be passed with the debenture plan included. They figure there will be only about 35 votes against it.

The switch in the lineup and the appearance of a dozen or more amendments led the leaders to abandon plans for voting upon the measure before tonight's final vote. Chairman McNary, of the senate agriculture committee, succeeded in getting an unanimous consent agreement adopted by which all debate on the measure after 3 p. m. Monday, will be limited to ten minutes for each senator. The agreement will bring a vote late Monday.

TWO KNOWN TO HAVE LOST LIVES IN POWDER BLAST

Others Are Believed Dead As Result of Fireworks Plant Explosion

WEST HANOVER, Mass., May 10.—(UP)—Two men were known to have lost their lives, two more were believed dead and several fellow employees were more or less seriously injured when an explosion demolished the powder mill at the National Fireworks company's plant here late today.

Reports received here stated that the National Fireworks plant had begun work on its fourth of July orders and was operating with virtually a full complement of employees.

It was estimated that 75 to 100 persons were working at the plant at the time of the blast.

A static spark was believed to have caused the blast, which damaged three other buildings and imperiled the lives of between 35 and 40 men.

The bodies of a man named Perry and another worker named Knight, both horribly mangled, were taken from the debris about 45 minutes after the explosion.

The other two men who were thought to have perished were believed to have been working with them in the power mill.

S. A. EXCHANGE FIRST CLUB TO JOIN CHAMBER

31 New Members Added On First Day of Drive; Workers Lauded

THE EXCHANGE CLUB was the first of the service clubs of this city to respond to the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce membership drive. After petitioning the club yesterday, Don Lemon and Eugene Hays found it 100 per cent a member of the chamber.

Much praise is due the workers who are approaching the prominent men of Santa Ana to identify themselves with the chamber of commerce, according to George Raymer, chamber secretary. The untiring zeal with which they are obtaining new members for the civic organization is significant of the loyalty and public spirit of this community, and the response to the whirlwind campaign is manifested evidence of patriotic citizenship here, Raymer declared.

Industrial Expansion Anaheim Subject

BENEFITS OF SURVEY TOLD BY OFFICIALS

The benefits to be obtained from an industrial survey of Orange county were brought out in a number of comprehensive talks given at the meeting of the industrial committee of the Associated Chambers at the Elks club in Anaheim last night. County supervisors, members of the committee, heads of the industrial departments of railroads operating in the county, and presidents and secretaries of chambers of commerce joining in the discussion.

The survey as outlined by the speakers would include the location of industrial sites available in the county and a topographical study of the best locations for such industries. The survey would co-ordinate with plans of the county planning commission and residential zones and industrial zones would be established, it was said.

The inter-dependence of Los Angeles and Orange counties was brought out and the harmony of purpose between the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and the Associated Chambers was stressed.

The meeting was in charge of J. C. Bliss, chairman of the newly appointed industrial committee, last night being the initial meeting of the committee. In an opening talk the chairman said that the word industry would cover almost anything that might go on in the county, and that a complete industrial survey would place the activities of the county in the location best suited to them. A bill before the legislature, if passed, will give authority to zone the county, he said.

Lotus Loudon, of Anaheim, president of the Associated Chambers, predicted that next year would see the greatest industrial expansion ever witnessed in Orange county and Southern California. This was due, he said, to a number of factors, among them the great progress being made by the nation as a whole. In view of the fact that

Day in Congress

SENATE
Continues debate on farm relief bill with vote probable. Interstate commerce committee continues hearings on bill to establish communications commission. Military affairs committee meets to consider appointments.

HOUSE
Continues debate on tariff bill. Republicans caucus on tariff bill after session.

Industrial Los Angeles was growing eastward and would soon reach beyond the boundaries of Orange county, Loudon suggested that a "flyer" system be installed between Los Angeles and this county. This suggestion, Loudon said, was made particularly at this meeting owing to the fact that the heads of a number of railway industrial departments were present. This would simplify communication, he said.

The guests were welcomed to Anaheim by Leonard Evans, president of the Anaheim Chamber of Commerce.

An interesting feature of the program was a talk given by James Royce, of Los Angeles. Royce was the winner of a silver cup recently offered by Los Angeles realtors for the best five-minute talk which presented a picture of Los Angeles as seen from an airplane.

C. J. James, of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, declared that although many contacts had been established between that organization and the Orange county organization more such contacts could be made to the advantage of both bodies. James explained the close relationship between the Los Angeles harbor and Orange county industrial projects.

Mass production and economical distribution were two of the tendencies of business today, James said. The development of Los Angeles harbor was told by the speaker, who declared in closing, that one of each three persons crossing the Rocky mountains westward located within 50 miles of Los Angeles.

Walter Thornton, a former active member of the Fullerton Chamber of Commerce and at one time pastor of the First Christian church, Fullerton, spoke briefly of Orange county as he remembered it 30 years ago. Thornton is general sales manager of the Harold G. Ferguson corporation, Los Angeles. The speaker told of driving to Los Angeles as a boy in a spring wagon and tying his horses to a hitching post in what is now the heart of the business section of the city. Anaheim was then a hamlet with a few grape vines and Long Beach a straggling settlement, he said.

Thornton regretted the absence of Horace Fine from the meeting, declaring Fine to be the dean of all reporters.

In talks given by the heads of the industrial department of the railroads the fact was stressed that the railroads were doing everything possible to co-operate with communities in bringing about industrial expansion. Tom Day of the Pacific Electric company told of plans of that organization to provide transportation which will serve the Pittsburgh Glass factory in Santa Ana.

W. C. Jerome, county treasurer, said that he considered that the positions of the county supervisors to be most important ones in relation to industries, as they paved the way for expansion. The real meat of the meeting, he declared, was the expressions made by the railway officials. Jerome urged that petty interests be forgotten in the good of the county as a whole.

At the present time, the county is served by one sewer system, the water-systems and police systems are closely interlocked and in time the county will become one great common community under one city and county government, he said.

W. J. Carmichael, member of the industrial committee, and head of the aviation committee, declared that the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce was back of Orange county as never before. There are a number of industrial movements in progress at the present time, Carmichael said, that cannot be released until the time is ripe. Release of news of this sort was often disastrous to the fulfillment of the project, he said.

T. B. Talbert, former county supervisor, outlined the re-establishment of the old cloth factory in Huntington Beach, which he said would in all probability take place shortly. A report on the factory would soon be in the hands of an eastern firm which wishes to take it over, he said, and freight rates and similar data has been assembled.

W. H. Daum, head of the Industrial department of the California Real Estate association, declared that a survey should be made of the industrial situation, but that such a survey was in vain if it were not used.

Man Fined $250 On Liquor Charge

A fine of $250 and a sentence of 30 days in jail was handed Clark F. Ross, 39, advertising man, of 1221 Stewart drive, Orange, by Judge Talbot in city court this morning on a charge of reckless driving. The jail sentence was suspended by the judge on the condition that Clark refrain from drinking intoxicating liquor for a period of six months. Ross who has been a resident of the county for three months, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Officer Sherwood.

amounts to approximately 60 per cent of the total sales volume which ran over $9,000,000 last year. Suddaby added, continuing with the statement that the addition of the 17 branches should add an additional $2,500,000 to the sales volume for the ensuing year.

Headquarters in S. A. Headquarters and general offices of the Smart and Final company will be continued in Santa Ana, where the company has been in business since 1912.

The present group of cash and carry branches embraces five stores in both Los Angeles and Long Beach, three stores in San Bernardino, two each in Santa Ana, Pasadena and Glendale and one in each of the following cities: Alhambra, Anaheim, Belvedere, Burbank, Fullerton, Inglewood, Monrovia, Ontario, Orange, Pomona, Redondo, Redlands, Riverside, San Pedro, Santa Monica, Whittier and Wilmington.

The 17 stores added by the purchase from the Economy Wholesale Grocery company are located in practically the same territory as now served by the four main service houses and Suddaby pointed out that this was a factor in deciding Smart and Final to make the move, as it would enable economical service. The new branches are located as follows: Seven in Los Angeles and one each in San Pedro, Alhambra, Inglewood, San Bernardino, Huntington Park, Torrance, Long Beach, Santa Ana, Alhambra, Van Nuys and Pasadena.

Warrants for their arrest were sworn to by the boy's uncle and guardian, E. M. Kendrick, who said he would "spend his last cent" in prosecution.

OPPOSITION TO FARM MEASURE IS DEVELOPING

sugar be decreased from 1.75 cents a pound to 1.23 cents a pound instead of increased 2.40 cents a pound as is proposed in the new tariff bill.

Walsh said President Coolidge had failed to act on the recommendation. Chairman Smoot, of the senate finance committee, denied such a recommendation was made, although he said he did not know what the commission had recommended.

The sugar question was raised when Copeland attacked the present rate as a "robbery schedule" and announced he would not vote for an increase, "which would cost the housewives of the United States a half billion dollars a year, or whatever it is."

"I would rather vote a direct bonus to the beet sugar growers of Utah," said Copeland. Smoot replied that all sections of the country were entitled to equal protection under the tariff and that Utah was as eligible to tariff protection as industry in New York. "You can't be for free trade to Utah and protection to New York, although you have said you were for no duty on sugar," Smoot said.

spread over two suburbs, where workers in the Solvay company plants are housed.

Green fumes were wafted first through Solvay and then across the lake to Liverpool.

Scores of workmen, choking from the deadly gas, hurried from the vicinity of the explosion. Emergency rescue crews were sent hurriedly into the affected area to bring out those who had been overcome.

Some of those overcome were treated in the plant hospital and others were hurried to hospitals in Syracuse.

Assistance was sent from this city when word reached here of the seriousness of the blast.

Solvay is located on the southeast shore of Onondaga lake and Liverpool almost directly across. As the greenish cloud spread out like fog over the countryside, the residents of Solvay were warned and many left their homes.

Oscar H. Dozier today started legal resistance to the petition of his daughter, Lella, for the appointment of her mother, Manie Eastman, as guardian. Following the granting of a divorce to Dozier he was awarded custody of the girl. His answer to her petition today recalled that on several occasions Mrs. Eastman had renewed her attempts to gain control of her daughter but that the court had ruled on each occasion that she was not the proper person to care for the girl.

J. D. Sanborn today brought suit against Guy Brady and Mary J. Brady, seeking to foreclose a mechanic's lien against Santa Ana property. He asked judgment for $131.

Seeking to foreclose a mortgage against Coast Boulevard farms property, V. W. Sylvester today brought suit against Walter W. Powers and others. The mortgage was security for a $5000 promissory note on which a default in payments had been made, the complaint stated.

Walter E. Allsman pleaded not guilty today when he was arraigned in superior court on a burglary charge. He will be tried on May 29 at 9:30 a. m.

After being found guilty on a charge of reckless driving yesterday by Justice Kenneth Morrison, S. Wellman, a Los Angeles man, appealed the case to a higher court. Judge Morrison levied a fine of $250, and the prisoner obtained his liberty pending the outcome of the appeal by posting cash bond of a like amount. Wellman was first before the court November 1, 1926, and had his case continued four times, failing to appear the fourth time, February 20, 1927.

Daniel M. Healey, instructor at a private boys' school in Anaheim, appeared before Justice Kenneth Morrison yesterday to answer to a charge of driving while intoxicated. Healey waived the preliminary examination, and was held to answer to the superior court. Healey is accused of throwing a tear gas shell in the face of Deputy Sam Snodgrass when the deputy approached him March 28 to take him in custody.

Only two fines were assessed in city court Wednesday the "lucky" recipients being Thos. Hunter, who paid $2 for over time parking, and Marlon Edwards, whom Judge Talbot fined a like amount for leaving a car parked between 2 and 5 a. m. Four other persons appeared before the judge, however. James Dance and Elmer Wales, who had tickets for speeding, were certified to the juvenile court by the judge because both boys were under 18. C. C. Kemper, charged with bad rubber on a trailer, was discharged by the court when he showed a certificate that the trouble had been repaired. W. H. Finley, who answered a charge of leaving a car parked between 2 and 5 a. m. testified that he had parked his car on a lot, but that it must have been pushed into the street, and was found not guilty.

Only two cases claimed the attention of Judge Talbot in city court yesterday, when E. G. Hall and Charles E. Cameo answered to tickets left with them for parking overtime. The judge assessed fines of $2 in both cases.

Two traffic cases were handled by Justice Kenneth Morrison yesterday. George Clough, of Westminster, was fined $5 for employing an unlicensed chauffeur and O. K. Hearte, of Pasadena, was assessed $15 for driving on the left side of the road.

Strong character references presented by Steve Green Los Alamitos rancher and aluminum ware salesman, tended to convince hearers in the court of Justice Kenneth Morrison this morning that he was not a person who would knowingly accept stolen goods. Green has arranged to reimburse the original owner of the property in question, some baby chicks the full value of same, although he states that he previously arranged to pay the man who delivered the chicks to him. Justice Morrison announced that the case would be continued until the payment was arranged, when the defendant would have the privilege of requesting the dismissal of the case on the grounds that the injured party was restored to the condition existing before the injury was done.

The first gun in the campaign of farm centers of Orange county on behalf of the $16,500,000 flood control bond election to be held June 25 will be fired at the West Orange Farm center meeting at 7:30 p. m. today, when that organization will take up its part in the campaign for putting the project across. Paul Bailey, flood control engineer, will address the group, explaining the huge program.

Other farm centers will launch their campaigns on behalf of the project at future meetings, according to Norman M. Blaney, executive secretary of the farm bureau here. The Anaheim center will meet Tuesday night while the Yorba Linda center will hold a meeting on the same night, Blaney said.

SHERIFF ASKED TO FIND KIDNAPED GIRL

The marriage license bureau at the county court house and sheriff's forces of Orange and San Diego counties have been asked by a grandmother to be on the lookout for her pretty 18-year-old granddaughter, who according to the report the grandmother, Fannie McCollum, of 326 North Sycamore street, Norwalk, phoned to the sheriff's office here at 6 o'clock this morning, had been kidnapped. The alleged kidnapers are said in the report made by Mrs. McCollum to be Frank O'Dell, 24, and Walter Rose, 42, neighbors of Mrs. McCollum living at 212 North Sycamore street, Norwalk.

The grandmother stated in the report she made to deputies at the jail that the girl, Violet Cecil Claife, had been kidnapped by the from the G. N. H. Radio Main street in Seal Beach they were traveling south car that was not equipped cense plates. Mrs. McCollum advised that she believed men would take the girl across border into Mexico.

ESSAY CONTEST OF S. A. REALTY BOARD IS CLOSED

The "city beautiful" contest, sponsored by the Santa Ana Realty board, closed May 8 with over 100 essays by the students of city schools on the subject, "How Would a Supervised Plan of City-Wide Tree-Lined Streets Benefit Santa Ana."

G. O. Berry of the essay committee announced today that 75 essays had been entered by the high school and junior college, 40 from other schools and especially many from the John Muir school.

He explained that the prizes would include $12, first; $8, second, and 5, third. The city planning commission will act as judges. The commission will hold its regular meeting May 20, but Berry said this morning it is likely that members will hold a special meeting to judge the essays.

A large majority of the essays turned in scored light and telephone corporations for slashing the trees of Santa Ana.

Thomas Glenn and D. K. Hammond of the local high school have made particular effort to place the need and value of tree planting before the general public, according to Berry.

FARM CENTER PRAISES BOARD ON FLY ACTION

A resolution commending the board of supervisors for their "good judgment" in delegating County Horticultural Commissioner A. A. Brock to go to Florida for study of the Mediterranean fruit fly situation there was unanimously adopted last night by the Garden Grove Farm center at its meeting in the Women's clubhouse.

The session was called 4-H club night and Assistant Farm Advisor E. E. Eastman talked regarding the club work. The Garden Grove Ranchers' 4-H club was in charge of the program with Assistant Leader Don Schurr as chairman. Singing of club songs, led by Miss MacIntosh; and the four-fold demonstration setting forth the aims of club activity were features of the program. Prominent club leaders were introduced, including Miss Ellen Dodson, Ralph Chaffee, H. L. Burchfield and J. W. Burch, leader of a newly organized club at Savanna, which sent 15 members to the meeting. The women of the club were complimented on their part in serving lunch to delegates at the traveling farm bureau conference at the Irvine park on Wednesday.

Jones, De Hate In Legion Fistic Go

HOLLYWOOD, May 10.—Tommy Jones of Atlanta, Georgia, ruled a slight favorite to win from Paul De Hate, Los Angeles, when the two fighters met tonight at the Hollywood Legion arena.

Jones is given consideration because of the thorough beating he gave Dick Hoppe a few weeks ago.

De Hate's followers claim he has picked up enough pointers since he started boxing with Ace Hudkins in training to knock out the Atlanta visitor.

School Students In Brea Program

BREA, May 10.—The chamber of commerce met for its regular weekly meeting in the high school cafeteria Tuesday evening.

The program for the evening was presented by the grammar school pupils, Prof. Fanning being in charge. He spoke on educational matters and how the chamber of commerce helped a community.

Professor Harvey, of the high school, was in charge of the community singing.

It was announced that the Brea chamber has made W. J. Carmichael, of Fullerton, an honorary member. He will handle the dirigible race proposition.

The 6:30 o'clock dinner was served by the Bee Hive club.

New York City uses the telephone to the extent of 8,000,000 calls a day.

S. A. STUDENTS GIVE SHOW IN YOST SPURGEON

Proving the versatility of the Santa Ana high school students, the all high school show given at the Yost Spurgeon theater last evening, managed by students from ushers to actors, delighted an appreciative audience.

The vaudeville show, preceded and followed by a picture program was introduced by Ted Newcomb, who acted as master of ceremonies throughout the evening. Harriet Morris, singing a group of popular songs opened the acts. Miss Morris was accompanied by June White.

Marion Nau added a classical touch to the program when he played several violin numbers, accompanied by Ada Ruth Hendrickson. Dorothy McDonald occupied the third spot on the show playing a group of red hot piano solos.

The Three Melody Boys, Harper Goff, Duncan Harnois and Garth Benjamin, were one of the hits of the evening with their songs, piano and banjo numbers.

A one-act play, "One Hundred Dollars," presented by Roberty Elvey, Julia Bingham, Doris Robbins, Florence Brownridge and Harland John, under the direction of Ernest Crozier Phillips, also scored with the audience.

Clayton Kaps entertained with a few numbers on his saxophone. Marjorie Crane and her dancing partner added variety to the program by presenting a waltz tango. The vaudeville closed with a group of popular songs sung by Betty Maloney and Agnes McKinstry imitating the Duncan sisters.

The program was sponsored by the high school Movie Club, and according to late reports attempts are being made to make it an annual affair.

SILVER WEEK IS CELEBRATED IN SANTA ANA

National Silver week! Could any phrase be more eye-arresting just at this time when June brides are beginning to loom on the social horizon? For June brides and fine silver just naturally go together, and hence the institution of National Silver week. On the part of American silver-smiths seems particularly well-chosen as a pre-June event.

Santa Ana jewelers who handle sterling silver are paying special attention to the observance of the week, which began on Monday and will continue until Saturday night, and are displaying the latest popular patterns as designed by such old establishments as Gorham Manufacturing Co., or Towle, or Rogers, Lunt and Bowen company.

The time has passed when silver was chosen for its ornate design, and people returning to the Spartan simplicity of early colonial days in the United States, when the flat ware, if it bore any design at all, was in the simplest of engraving. The day of the heavy floral designs or the intricate patterns of the "souvenir spoon" has passed, and silver today must match from cocktail fork to coffee spoon. William C. Lorenz for instance, finds the greatest demand for three severely plain designs, "Lady Diana" made by Towle, "Dolly Madison" by Gorham, and "Pine tree" by International.

Another pattern which he finds especially well liked in this Southland where Spanish influence is felt, is the Seville, new this spring, and whose delicate borders suggest the Moorish influence so noticeable in the most romantic old Spanish cities.

At the Carl Strock jewelry store, preference seems to be given that beautiful pattern introduced a year or so ago, the Etruscan, which with its graceful shape and narrow threading of black, still remains enshrined in the heart of womanhood as one of her first and dearest loves.

Strock tells with a smile of how an architect friend of his, George Howard by name, was looking idly through the silver while waiting for him one day.

"Here is a nice Etruscan design," he announced pointing at the array of flat ware, and his host was vastly entertained that the silver should so perfectly live up to its name.

Granado is a favorite of the current year, introduced in time for national silver week, and is one of the famous "treasure" patterns of Rogers, Lunt and Bowen. Architectural details of Spanish design have loaned their graceful curves and scrolls to the details of the design, which gains its name from the Spanish adjective, granado, meaning select.

Lighter in weight but graceful in design is the Wentworth, manufactured by the Watson company, and offering the satisfaction of exquisite taste and a lifetime of service to its owners.

R. H. Ewert, jeweler, finds three special patterns in the lead for popularity in the current year, Gorham's "King Albert," Rogers, Lunt and Bowen's "Mary the Second," and Wallace's "Princess Anne," a trifle more ornate than the other two, although "Mary the Second" silver has a charming etched design.

This store finds that most of the brides of today, like their sisters of earlier generations, have their silver sets well started before their wedding garments are fashioned, and the nuptial ceremony and its accompanying gifts, allows relatives and friends the privilege of completing sets already started. A whole chest may be purchased, or a single spoon, but if the one pattern be maintained, the effect when a table is spread ready for dining, is always pleasing and harmonious. Sets of eight are found highly popular among young brides, who have learned that they rarely require a full dozen in flat ware, but nearly always need more than the half dozen.

Remaining jewelers in the city are not so much interested in sterling silverware, and are allowing Silver week to pass with little or no attention. Frank V. Hoffman, of the Hoffman Jewelry shop, explained that this is the first time in 39 years that he has felt no interest in such a subject, but his intentions of going out of business caused him to discontinue the handling of sterling silver tableware. He pointed out the age and standing of some of the leading companies, notably Gorham Manufacturing company, which dates back over a century and which has recently absorbed some of the other companies.

At Yelding and Grier's store, interest centers on jewelry and watches, and no sterling silver is handled. The same statement applies to the Asher Jewelry company, where the brothers of the firm deal in articles of adornment, watches, rings, etc., and some table silver, but not sterling; to the Fern Bishop store, and to C. P. Kryhl and Sons, where their lines are sterling flatware were discontinued some time ago. The little store of I. Fields handles no silver but gives its space to articles of adornment and its watch business.

COLLEGE READY FOR 'MACBETH' PLAY MAY 17

Nightly rehearsals on the junior college Shakespearean production, "Macbeth," to be given May 17 as part of the Spanish fiesta program, are bringing the play up to a high point of excellence, according to Ernest Crozier Phillips, dramatic coach.

One of the main points in the local showing will be the excellence and importance of the minor characters. Some of the smaller parts are outstanding in dramatic interpretation.

Portraying the "Three Witches," Madelyn Morlock, Sherill Spurgeon and Clara Kate Owens, are doing fine work. The comedy part of "Porter" is taken by Edward Gerhardt, well known for his humorous roles. Harlan John as Ross, Crawford Nalle as Lennox, Newell Vander-mast taking the parts of Angus and Seyton, Wylie Carlyle handling the parts of a captain and various servants, Roberta Eley as a gentlewoman and Thirld Apparition, Florence Brownridge as Fleance, J. Frank Miles Jr. as an English doctor and murderer and Minor Thompson as Donaldson are all doing minor but important parts in a most convincing manner.

The lead of Macbeth is taken by Ray Lindman, well known for his former work. This part is one of the most difficult in any of Shakespeare's plays and requires 1700 memorized lines. Playing opposite him as Lady Macbeth is Mona Summers Smith. After the part of Macbeth, that of Macduff is probably next in dramatic interest. The part is taken by Paul Allen whose rich voice carries his intensely dramatic scenes to a high emotional pitch. And more sincere and accurate interpretation cannot be found in the play than that which William Jerome brings to the part of Banquo. Equally well done is the interpretation of the part of Duncan by Neal Harlow, Arthur Gross as Malcolm completes one of the best adapted casts in the history of the school, in Coach Phillips' estimation. Last year, the college presented "The Taming of the Shrew." The precedent set has been carried out again this year. The play will be given as the closing event on the annual Spanish fiesta, May 17. Seniors from all of Orange county will be in attendance it was learned.

Doc West

DOC WEST ON ABC NETWORK TONIGHT

Doc West, the homely philosopher, will scatter words of wisdom and startling truths, framed in a sparkling musical setting, to a nation-wide radio audience tonight. Stations of the ABC Network will release this broadcast to the entire Western territory at 6:30 o'clock, Pacific standard time. Doc West is a distinct personality who has seen the world from many angles and whose pithy and entertaining observations contain much of value. The following stations of the ABC western network will broadcast this program: KJR, Seattle; KGA, Spokane; KEX, Portland; KVA, San Francisco; KMTB, Hollywood; KDYL, Salt Lake City, and KLZ, Denver.

Hyde To Describe Jupiter, Saturn On RCA Program

Jupiter and Saturn, gods to the ancients and fascinating "roving" planets to the moderns, will be described by Henry M. Hyde when he speaks again during the weekly RCA University of the Air broadcast from 8 to 9 o'clock tonight through NBC system stations.

Hyde's talk comes during the third period of the RCA hour, which will open with a musical description of the "World of Music and Letters." "Marche Grotesque," by the Norwegian composer Sinding, is the first number by the orchestra. This is a weird, ecstatic selection suggesting trolls dancing in the woods or leaping over the fjords of Norway. Margaret O'Dea's first contralto solo will be Bizet's "Card Song" from "Carmen," while the RCA orchestra's presentation of Offenbach's overture to "Orpheus in Hades" will close this episode. In the "World of Knowledge" section Edward Randall, baritone, will sing "In the Time of Roses," Hyde's talk following.

MASSIVE ORGAN
LONDON, May 10.—Compared with the largest organs in the world is one in the Davis theater at Croydon. It is of the four manual-class, and has thousands of pipes. It is entirely electrical and a 15-horsepower motor provides the air for it. It has approximately 12,000 contacts of especially-wrought metal and contains about 200 miles of electric wire and several thousand magnets.

Challengers To Feature Ragtime Music On Program

The Hudson-Essex Challengers will dip back into the earliest days of modern syncopation tonight over the NBC and KFI, when they devote an evening to the works of Irving Berlin.

For it was with "Alexander's Ragtime Band," nearly 20 years ago, that today's band of popular music really started. That song swept the country, and is still remembered far and wide. Just how much of it influenced other song writers and what effect its success had on the evolution of today's music would be hard to say. "Alexander's Ragtime Band" was one of the first of a long series of famous hits. Appropriately enough, the Challengers start their Berlin program with it, then they come on down through other outstanding numbers to some of the latest of his creations.

HOW HIGH UP?

LONDON, May 10.—Wireless waves are the latest things employed to tell an aviator the height he is flying above the ground. A machine sends out a wave to the ground, which rebounds and is picked up again in a series of lights. These lights, vari-colored, flash according to the height of the plane above the ground.

Do more than wear a Flower

Wear a flower of appropriate color on Mothers' Day.

Join, if you will, in this united expression of love for those who gave us birth . . . who conceived and nourished us . . . who reared and cherished us through those tender years which only a mother fully understands.

But the flower worn on Mothers' Day is merely a symbol.

It is a tribute publicly given by mankind to Motherhood and to one Mother in particular.

It may be accompanied by a silent regret that the opportunity no longer exists for an easing of her labors of love and devotion or by a silent pledge to do more than ever to make life easier, smoother, happier for the one to whom we do homage next Sunday.

MODERN MOTHERS . . . THANKS TO THE OVEN HEAT CONTROL ON THEIR GAS RANGES . . . HAVE TIME FOR GOLF AND OTHER INTERESTING AND HEALTHFUL DIVERSIONS.

OUR own thoughts of Mothers' Day are brightened by the knowledge that in thousands of kitchens the work has been simplified and life has been made easier and happier through the time-saving, labor-saving, oven-heat-control on the modern gas ranges sold by this company.

EL TORO

The New, Frostless, Windless, Valencia Orange District

RIGHT AT YOUR VERY DOOR

Soil that is rich and deep—a section that is frostless—protected from the burning winds
—THAT'S EL TORO!

Add water—an abundance of it—to these ideal conditions and you have the exact features of the tract held by the Orange County Development Co. Here soil, water and climate have combined to make Valencia orange grove development an assured success.

The Company has no real estate to sell. You cannot buy any acreage on this most favored tract. But you can share in the money to be made in the development of it. There's an opportunity to make money—lots of it—in the El Toro district. It's right at your very door. Thru the tried and proven plan of the Orange County Development Co. the way is open to you to get your full share. Ask The Newton Company to give you the details.

NEW WATER WELL IS SECURED ON PROPERTY NEAR EL TORO; COMPANY LETS PIPE CONTRACT

Proving that the El Toro district is plentifully supplied with water, two good producers have been secured on the 150-acre property of the Orange County Development company, located two miles north of El Toro. A new well has just been completed on the concern's holdings.

The well is flowing 40 miner's inches, the same flow as the one brought in some time ago on the opposite side of the property.

The company has just let a contract to the National Cement Pipe company for irrigation pipes for the tract. Eighty-five hundred Valencia trees have been purchased and will be set out on 100 acres. Later on the remaining 50 acres will be planted to Valencia oranges.

That the district has attracted the attention of experienced citrus experts is seen in the fact that a number of well known growers have purchased land in the district and have developed excellent producers there.

The Orange County Development
company's acreage was purchased last fall from the Whiting company. The district is declared frostless and free of desert winds.

The Jerome brothers and the Collar Nursery company have acquired 60 acres adjoining this property and plan extensive developments there.

Several years ago the Las Alisos company acquired 150 acres from the Whiting company and set the property to oranges, water being found in abundance.

THERE IS A REASON

Successful business men invest only after careful investigation. That's why they are successful.
When civic and county leaders—successful business men—soil and citrus growing experts—all join in an enterprise it must possess all the factors that make for success.

It is these men who have organized and invested their funds in the Orange County Development Company.
They see the opportunities such a corporation offers for profit.

Let the Newton Company give you all the details, all the facts. Let us show you why men of high standing and financial success have invested their time and money in the company. Let us show you some startling figures and prove to you that where these men lead you can follow with confidence. There is positively no obligation involved. Call or write the Newton Company today.

This is the well that insures plenty of water for the Orange County Development Company operations. On an official 24-hour test this well produced at a rate sufficient for the entire tract now held. This is only ONE of the TWO big wells completed on the property.

This tract of gentle slopes with rich, deep, sandy loam soil is ready to produce the equal of the fine Valencia groves so characteristic of the El Toro district. Water for it comes from wells already completed and tested like the one above. You can share in all profits made from the development of this ideal property.

Modern and Up-To-Date Home of the Fixit Shop

RAY STEDMAN PREPARES FOR FIX-IT EVENT

A feature to delight the hearts of Santa Ana boys and girls has been planned by Ray B. Stedman, owner and manager of the Fix-It Shop on East Third street, for all day Saturday. Ice cream cones are to be gifts to all children visiting the shop during the entire day.

The generous plan will be carried out in order to give the little folk of this community and surrounding territory an opportunity to become acquainted with the Fix-It men and to inspect the new bicycles which Stedman has just added to his shop.

Since establishing his business here five years ago, Stedman has won his way into the hearts of bicycle lovers. His growth and development in a business way is ample evidence of his popularity
among the parents of outdoor boys and girls. He has just completed the remodeling of the store.

Whereas Stedman began his mending work in the location where he is now situated, with only minor jobs of lawn mower fixing and furniture mending, he is now established in a flourishing trade including his original mending work and the bicycle business. The shop was, at the time of its opening here, small and insignificant, giving but a weak impression of activity. It is now highly regarded as among the leading "Fix-It"
shops in the county.

The remodeling which has just been completed, comprises a most attractive color scheme carried out in gray and green shades, and includes new linoleum, bicycle racks and an entire new stock of bicycles.

Strong green colored racks are arranged in neat array to exhibit the clear cut lines of the new bicycles, which stand in colorful formation about this shop and furnish a striking contrast to the delicate tint of the gray walls.

Stedman has added the California, Miami, Emblem lines of bicycles to his stock and now carries,

in specialized capacity, the Pennsylvania tires. Salesmen of this district have said that the local Fix-It shop does not have a rival outside of Los Angeles and San Diego for its complete line of bicycles, and its ability to satisfy the tastes of the most particular young buyer.

Stedman has had the balcony
floor of his shop entirely refinished for display purposes and expects that it will be fully completed within the next several weeks. It is the only remodeling feature which is not as yet complete.

Associated with Stedman is George C. Post, who has been a business man in this city for the past 20 years. He has been considered one of Santa Ana's pioneer bicycle experts and is reputed to be among the best wheel mechanics in the Southland. He formerly owned a bicycle shop here.

Herbert Cropsey is another in the shop and according to Stedman is fast becoming an expert on the job. He is a young high school student and finds work after hours not too difficult when one is learning a trade for future use.

Trojan Distance Men After Mark

LOS ANGELES, May 10. — Five University of Southern California distance runners will attempt to 4-5 seconds and was made last year by Ellsworth Patterson.

Halstead, freshman star, Warren Woodruff and Patterson are believed to have excellent chances to

L. B. BOARD TO AID POLICE CAMPAIGN

LAGUNA BEACH, May 10.—Stressing the danger of parking on Laguna avenue near the post-office, Police Commissioner R. D. Lippincott asked the city council last night to back up the police department in a drastic campaign to prevent leaving cars on the half block from Ramona street to the boulevard.

Six cars in as many months, according to police records, have slipped their brakes and rolled down to Coast boulevard. Two of them have gone across that main thoroughfare, and by mere chance missed plunging into stores on the other side. The latest accident resulted in a slight accident to a woman sitting in a car which was struck by a runaway car last Saturday.

Other matters briefly considered by the city fathers concerned the hiring life guards for the central beach, laid over for further information, beach cleaning, opening the board walk to permit teams to get to the strand to haul away rubbish, and discussion of the paving of an alley from the boulevard to the beach near the comfort station of the sanitary district. The only action taken was instruction to the city engineer regarding an opening in the board walk at Broadway.

The necessity of cleaning the beaches was stressed by citizens and Councilman B. B. Mason promised to see that action was taken which would result in a cleaner beach.

WALTER HAGEN WINS BRITISH OPEN TITLE

GERMAN'S CAMERA GIVES INTIMATE GLIMPSES OF MAX SEHMEILING, MOST DISCUSSED BOXER

CHAMPION FAR AHEAD OF HIS FIELD IN 292

BY ARCH RODGERS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
MURFIELD, Scotland, May 10.—Walter Hagen won the British Open golf championship for the fourth time here today.
While a gale swept the moors and the other contenders went to pieces, the champion played two steady rounds to gain an aggregate of 292, which left him far out alone in front of the field.
There was nothing spectacular about the finish of this championship except the havoc wrought by the wind sweeping in from the North sea across Muirfield's rolling dunes.
The other contenders seemed to have lost heart in the face of the devastating 67 tossed at them by "Sir Walter" the day before, and it only remained for Leo Diegel, mercurial P. G. A. champion, to blow up and leave the championship to Hagen.
Diegel did so early in the day taking an 82 for his third round and falling far behind.
Hagen won the championship with rounds of 75-67-75-75 about 12 strokes under the estimated par for Muirfield.
This championship is the fourth British Open for Walter. He won first at Sandwich in 1922, at Hoylake in 1924 and again at Sandwich last year.
Diegel tossed away his last

Young Max Schmeling, the 22-year-old German heavyweight, is the most discussed fighter in the world today. His importance in the boxing news compares to that of Georges Carpentier in 1919, who was being touted as the first real prospect for the heavyweight championship that had been developed in Europe in a general way. Many boxing critics think that Schmeling is a much better prospect than Carpentier was. No little of the publicity that he has attracted has been the result of a rather striking physical resemblance he bears to Jack Dempsey and the similarity of their style in the ring. Schmeling admits that he copied Dempsey's bobbing and weaving style after seeing motion pictures of the former champion in action.

Schmeling, after knocking out Johnny Risko, who never had been knocked out before, was advanced to the position where he was considered as one of the three men to fight it out for the world's heavyweight championship. The Garden officials in New York wanted to match him with Paulino and send the winner against Jack Sharkey.

But Schmeling, at a most inauspicious time, became involved in a bitter fight with Herr Bulow, his German manager, and went back home to Germany.
The pictures shown in the accompanying art are the first to be shown of Schmeling in Germany. They were secured just before the fighter sailed from Hamburg to discuss a settlement with Bulow.
No. 1 shows the church in Prenzlau where Schmeling was christened. No. 2 shows him in the uniform of a cadet student at the age of ten years. No. 3 shows the crowd that greeted him when he returned to Hamburg after knocking out Risko. No. 4 shows him posing for a picture before his fight with Jack Stanley, which he won by a knockout. In No. 5 he is shown as a football player, a game in which he first excelled. No. 6 shows him at tea time with his mother and brother at home. (He doesn't drink beer or spirits.) In No. 7 he is shown exercising with a sparring partner at his home a few days before he sailed for the United States.

WALLY FRAZIER SIGNS TO MEET VETERAN HEAVY

BY RINGSIDER
Some say that 13 is an unlucky number but big Wally Frazier, Hawthorne's hungry heavyweight, is not superstitious. He signed articles of agreement today in a six-round main event one of the oldest but still one of the best of Southern California's 175-pounders at the Orange County Athletic club next Wednesday night. Frank Williams is the man in question. Frazier has won 12 straight bouts here.

Williams has been fighting seven years and will never be a champion but he has beaten some of the best boys of the division. He defeated Neil Clisby, who fought the main event at the Olympic last week. He won from Vito Doman, a Hollywood topnotcher. He whipped Tony Fuente, K. O. King, Battling Savage and Jack Roper. Recently, at Ocean Park, he gave Johnny Sova a decisive trouncing. Sova beat Young Franklin here two weeks ago.

Williams was in the gallery last Tuesday when Frazier chased the timid Frankie Muskie all around the ring and finally clubbed him into unconsciousness.
Hi Gill and Jimmie Rivers will box the semi-windup. They are local welters. Rivers recently went 10 rounds to a draw with "Rubber" Johnson although newspapermen at the ringside said Rivers won all the way. Gill qualified for this spot by outpointing the good Billy Blake.

UNITED STATES ADOPTS LARGER BALL FOR GOLF

By WILLIAM J. DUNN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, May 10.—The larger and lighter golf ball, long a favorite topic of speculation in the world of golf, has become a reality in the United States.

On January 1, 1931, the United States Golf association announced yesterday, a new ball measuring not less than 1.68 inches in diameter and weighing not more than 1.55 ounces will become standard within the jurisdiction of that governing body.
The old ball measured 1.62 inches and weighed 1.62 ounces.

Yesterday's announcement came as a surprise because of the fact that the Royal and Ancient club of Scotland, ruling British golf, rejected the proposed change in the ball only a few days before.

Unless an agreement is reached before the new rule becomes effective here the possibility of complications in international competition appears great.

Herbert Jaque, chairman of the U. S. G. A. implements and ball committee, is sure the change will prove beneficial to the average player.

"The extremely long hitter will find his drives falling off from three to six yards," he said, "but this handicap is more than made up in the advantages the new ball offers."

"In pitching to the green, and in putting, the average golfer will find the new ball a decided improvement. The new ball has a tendency to drop more nearly straight at the end of its carry and this, of course, is a great aid in pitching."

"With the new ball it will be possible to use clubs of less loft and to play without so much attention to back-swing as there is less tendency to run off the green on pitch shots."

FAVORITES FOR NATIONAL FLAG IN BIG SERIES

By FRANK GETTY
(United Press Sports Editor)
NEW YORK, May 10.—The Chicago Cubs were due to open a series at the Polo Grounds today with their foremost rivals of the eastern sector, the New York Giants.

Despite the slow start suffered by John McGraw's club, a majority of the critics still rate these same Giants as the most formidable rivals of the Cubs in the entire circuit.

It is a little early yet to consider any series in any decisive, but this first test of strength between Chicago and New York is going to mean a great deal.

Psychology Will Count
If the Giants can swat the invaders three or four times in a row, they will be in the happy position of having an Indian sign on the Cubs for the rest of the season. If the Chicago gang opens its way through the Giants' defense, the local club may lose its fighting heart.

A somewhat similar series, although of far greater importance than the present one, took place in New York last summer. The Philadelphia Athletics had come from behind to cut down a 13 games lead enjoyed by the New York Yankees. The Mackmen had gone into first place and had come to New York to celebrate by welcoming the Yanks themselves.

But the Yankees were real champions, after all, and it was they who did the swatting. Then and there they broke the hearts of the Athletics, won three out of four games and virtually clinched the American league pennant.

The Yankees and Athletics of 1929 are in the middle of their first swing through the west. Each club has finished with the St. Louis Browns, to its relief, and with the Chicago White Sox.

The world's champions open today against the Detroit Tigers. Bucky Harris' hard hitting club presents a easy obstacle. There are some home run hitters among the Tiger clan who want to try results with Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig.

The Babe, incidentally, appears to be running behind his record for homers this spring. Those wedding bells on opening day may have given the big slugger something else to occupy his mind, but he hasn't been thrilling the fans as of yore.

The Cleveland Indians, who offer the opposition to the Athletics this week-end, have been a puzzle to the experts this season. They haven't done nearly as badly as was expected, and the reason for their winning ball games is not exactly apparent. For a time, they simply went on doing so.

But the team of the year, thus far, is the Boston Braves. The experts had them ticketed for a quick dive to the basement, instead of which they strode out to lead the league. Judge Fuchs' grin gets broader and broader every time he thinks of what the newspapers and other critics said about his managership.

The chances are that there's a lantern jawed little fellow named Johnny Evers who's giving the judge quite a helping hand these days.

UNDEFEATED SANTA ANA STARS PLAY GARDEN GROVE IN FIRST COUNTY LEAGUE GAME TONIGHT

A smaller but stronger and more compact Orange County Night Baseball league will officially open tonight with games in Santa Ana, Olive and Anaheim. The Chilipeppers of Garden Grove, drawing their players from a wider area than ever before and therefore a team to be feared, invade the Sixth and Olive street Bowl here. Orange goes to Olive for a kind of "Civil War" and Huntington Beach, which for two years has been knocking at the pennant door, travels to the headquarters of Santa Ana's oldest night ball enemy, Anaheim.

Champions of the confederacy for the past three summers and claiming a superior all-around organization to any of the previous ones, Santa Ana naturally stands out as the favorite and the team to beat for the title. Every squad in the running will be gunning for Santa Ana this semester.

Anaheim will be strong, as usual, but perhaps not as impressive off of pre-season performances as in the past. Huntington Beach and Olive are almost certain to be contenders. Garden Grove, with a good pitching staff and some new life in the infield, rates as the "dark horse." Nothing except hope is held for Orange, although the neighboring city had a powerful aggregation at the tallend of the 1928 race and must be watched if it gets off on the right foot this term.

Santa Ana has just completed a season of six practice engagements without defeat. This is a better record than the Stars ever have boasted. The team seems to have just about everything that goes to make up a good club—first class pitching from Ochoa and Stockbridge; a fast, steady infield in Cole, Fouts, Hill and Scott, and a set of flyball hawks in the outfield with Schuchardt, Nelson, Merrill, and Prebie. Randolph Bell, a first stringer for the last two years, has returned to

Chenrig Says Pitching
Lou Gehrig, who contributes one of the major portions to the Yankee offensive, recently declared that he believed pitching was of more importance to a ball club than hitting. Some managers believe that if they can assemble half a dozen .300 hitters they do not need to worry about their pitching staff.

As is the case in every argument since the first one about the snake and the apple, there is much to be said on both sides. Some ball clubs have come down through the years with the reputation for slugging, and each succeeding manager has built up his pennant hopes on that basis.

Take the Detroit Tigers, for instance. They always have been noted as sluggers, since the days when Ty Cobb and Sam Crawford were the despair of opposing hurlers.

This year, "Bucky" Harris has a collection of hitters who are keeping his club in the American league pennant race. If it were not for the Detroit offensive, the club would be nudging some others for a comfortable place in the cellar, even at this early date.

Tigers Pound Ball
When the first American league batting averages were published, it was found that the Tigers were fairly murdering the ball. The only thing comparable to their performance was the showing of the Chicago Cubs in the National league.

Julia Lathrop junior high school's baseball team was not even in the same class with the Fullerton high school second team yesterday afternoon when it was defeated by a 14 to 3 score.

For three innings it looked like a ball game with the score 1 to 1 but the inevitable soon took place and the Redshirts started knocking the ball all over the lot in the fourth inning and kept it up for most of the game. Gordon pitched five innings for Lathrop and Kilday two. Thompson, the Fullerton southpaw, pitched six innings.

IMPORTANCE OF BAT VS. MOUND MOOT QUESTION

By FRANK GETTY
(United Press Sports Editor)
NEW YORK, May 10.—A controversy which even the most confirmed baseball fans never have threshed out satisfactorily is whether hitting or pitching is of most value to a ball club which aspires to win a pennant.

There have been teams which blasted their way through to the top on the strength of a powerful offensive, and then there have been others which won the world series by keeping down their opponents' scores.

Such were the Chicago White Sox of 1906, who have come down to us in baseball history as the "Hitless Wonders." The New York Yankees of 1928, present world's champions, were an example of a club which had no superlative defense, but which usually went out and made the most runs in any given ball game.

Chenrig Says Pitching
Lou Gehrig, who contributes one of the major portions to the Yankee offensive, recently declared that he believed pitching was of more importance to a ball club than hitting. Some managers believe that if they can assemble half a dozen .300 hitters they do not need to worry about their pitching staff.

IMPORTANCE OF AT VS. MOUND TILL ARGUED

The famous Yankees with their "murderers' row" were quite in shade. Harry Rice, Gehrig, Heilmann, Alexander, Marty McManus, "Fat" Fothergill brought their fighting eyes and beef to bear upon offerings of opposing pitchers, and the results were devastating. The Cubs lost no time in justifying their reputation as sluggers. Hornsby, Stephenson and Rimm started from the barrier in a barrage of base hits which put the Cubs up into the first position within striking distance of top.

SMART-FINALS VANQUISH WAR VETERANS, 13-4

The season's first major surprise had been sprung in the Santa Ana Twilight league today. The Smart and Finals, chronic tailenders of the 1928 season, unceremoniously bumped off the American Legion Bugle and Drum corps, last year's champions, by a score of 13 to 4 in the Bowl yesterday. The personnel of the two clubs was virtually the same as last year.

The Grocers gauged on Clyde Trusty as early as the first inning, when they made four runs on two hits and three passes, and they kept adding to their lead along the route, adding three in the third, five in the fourth and one in the sixth.

Meanwhile, Eddie Cox pitched consistently for his clubbing mates and gave the Legionnaires only seven safe blows, four of which were bunched in the fourth when the erstwhile rulers of the roost registered all their runs.

The Auto Club of Orange County and the Orange County Title company wind up the first week's schedule today. The box score:

WILLARD BASEBALL MEN DEFEAT BREA

Chalking up the fourth win for Frances Willard junior high school this week, the fast-going first team walloped Brea by a 12 to 3 margin yesterday. This marked their second league win of the week, while the eighth grade trimmed Tustin, 11 to 4, and the seventh grades triumphed over Garden Grove, 15 to 4.

The Indians had their eyes on the ball, collecting 13 hits. They hit safely in every inning but the first, when they netted three runs off Bennett, who could not find the plate. Blomer held the Brea bat slingers to two safe bingles, four errors, two by Holderman, figuring in the scoring.

PAUL. REBOIN SET FOR STATE TRACK CLASSIC

morrow afternoon in the Los Angeles Coliseum.

It is hardly possible for the talented pair to win the classic between them but they may make enough points in their two events, the 220 yard low hurdles and the broad jump, to put the Santa Ana banner well up in the field of California's finest prep teams.

Winner of two first places in the Southern California meet two weeks ago, Paul is expected to take the low sticks in near record time. He has run 24 3-5 seconds in competition and 24 flat in practice. The state record, set three years ago by Jimmy Payne of San Bernardino, is 23 4-5 seconds.

Reboin, unexpectedly eliminated from his pet race, the 120 yard high hurdles, when he hit a hurdle and fell while leading the pack in the finals of the All-Southern, will compete along with Paul in the lows and is sure to place, perhaps second to Paul. With no other event to occupy his attention, it is possible that the husky little junior may step out and beat even Paul.

Aside from the low hurdles, the Saints will be represented only in the broad jump in which Paul should finish among the first three, perhaps first as he did in the All-Southern. Northern competition is feared in the pits event, however, and Paul may be forced to accept a silver instead of his usual gold medal.

chance to overtake Hagen when he reached the turn in his final round in 41 strokes.

This put the White Plains pro out of it and left only Johnny Farrell with the least chance to catch the leader.

One by one, those within striking distance of Hagen cracked under the strain of the concluding rounds of the championship.

Mitchell Takes 222

Abe Mitchell, an whose broad shoulders the British had pinned most of their hopes for recovery of the title, needed a 78 for an aggregate of 222.

Percy Alliss, who had led the field in the first round, shot a 76, to total 221 at the end of 54 holes.

Gene Sarzen, who finished second to Hagen last year at Sandhollow, shot a 76 on his fourth round, and had an aggregate of 204. The little Italian-American was the first of the prominent contenders to complete the 72 holes. His 81 in the morning had deprived him of any chance.

Horton Smith finished with a total of 313, having a 77 for his final round.

Charley Borah To Work Out Monday

LOS ANGELES, May 10.—Captain Charley Borah, University of Southern California sprinter who has been limping all this week with a sore muscle in his right leg which he pulled in the 100-yard dash in the A.A.U. championships last Saturday, will attempt to take his first track workout since the injury Monday afternoon at Bovard field. Easy jogging will be all that Borah will attempt during the first few days. He has hopes of getting his leg back in condition fast enough to be able to run a 220 in the California Intercollegiate at the Los Angeles Coliseum May 18.

EARLY SCOUTING

It may be that a sense of humor will keep the Boston Braves from finishing in last place in the National league pennant race. You can bet all the dough you own that they are not going to win the championship but they might finish close to the first division.

The club had an off day in Philadelphia recently and the whole squad went to the ball park to see the Athletics and the Yankees play. Johnny Evers was joshed about being a motorman who spent his off day riding the street cars and he ridiculed the idea that he was taking a ride.

"We're all serious about being out here," he said with a smile. "We want to look over these ball clubs. One of them is liable to be in there against us in October."

HE HAS IT

Judge Emil Fuchs, the president-manager of the club, said in their southern training camp that what a lot of managers needed was a sense of humor.

"I've got a sense of humor," he said. "There are only eight places in the league and I can't finish the club lower than eighth. All the other managers we've had didn't do any better than I can do. I can't finish lower than they did."

No ball club will get exactly funny about their business as long as Johnny Evers is around, but the mental attitude off the ball field is important. It is the great worry of Miller Huggins. He fears his ball players will become jaded and fagged from success.

LET IT FALL!

"Lefty" O'Doul, now playing the outfield for the Philadelphia Phillies, has a keen sense of humor. In fact, he was so inclined toward the light side of life that he lost his job when he first came up with the Yankees. He was the playmate for the Babe in those days when the Babe was going through his lighter moments.

O'Doul started out by leading the league in hitting and one of the New York newspapermen asked him how it felt to be leading the league.

"Well," he replied. "It's like standing on a hot corner in summer with a cake of ice. You can't eat it. You can't drink it and you know it's going to melt away."

PLENTY OF DOUGH

The Cincinnati ball players say that when the personal effects of Roy Meeker, a young pitcher who died in the Orlando training camp, were gathered together a check was found in his wallet.

It was for $300 and it represented his share of the world series money when the Reds finished second in 1926. He had never cashed the check.

BIGGEST AT POST

Dale Alexander, rookie with Detroit, is the biggest first baseman in the major leagues. He stands six feet three inches tall and weighs 215 pounds.

'STRANGLER' LEWIS NOW MARRIED MAN

Each week for the past year half have been able to turn money to their parents to pay factor bills, and other assessments which could not have been had not been for the child-school savings accounts. Emphasis has been made on that it is not the amount deposited each week, but regularity with which they deposit. Many pupils have been depositors since the beginning of the school term and in instances when pupils have been unable to be in school, they have walked several blocks to their children's bank money post."

"Satisfying have been the of the system and through operation of M. L. Pearson, supervisor, and the teachers, no doubt be of much value pupils."

CLEVER STUNTS ARRANGED FOR COUNTY PICNIC

Clever stunts are being planned by the entertainment committees for the Orange County Employees' picnic at Irvine Park May 25. Justice Kenneth Morrison, president of the organization stated today.

In addition to the special division stunts to be presented by the five divisions, courthouse, hall of records, sheriff and hospital, road department, Fullerton, and road department, Santa Ana, a group of some seven stunts will be participated in by entrants from each division. The division winning the most points during the contests will be presented with a silver loving cup. The cup is offered for the first time this year, Morrison announced, and will become the property of the division that wins it three times.

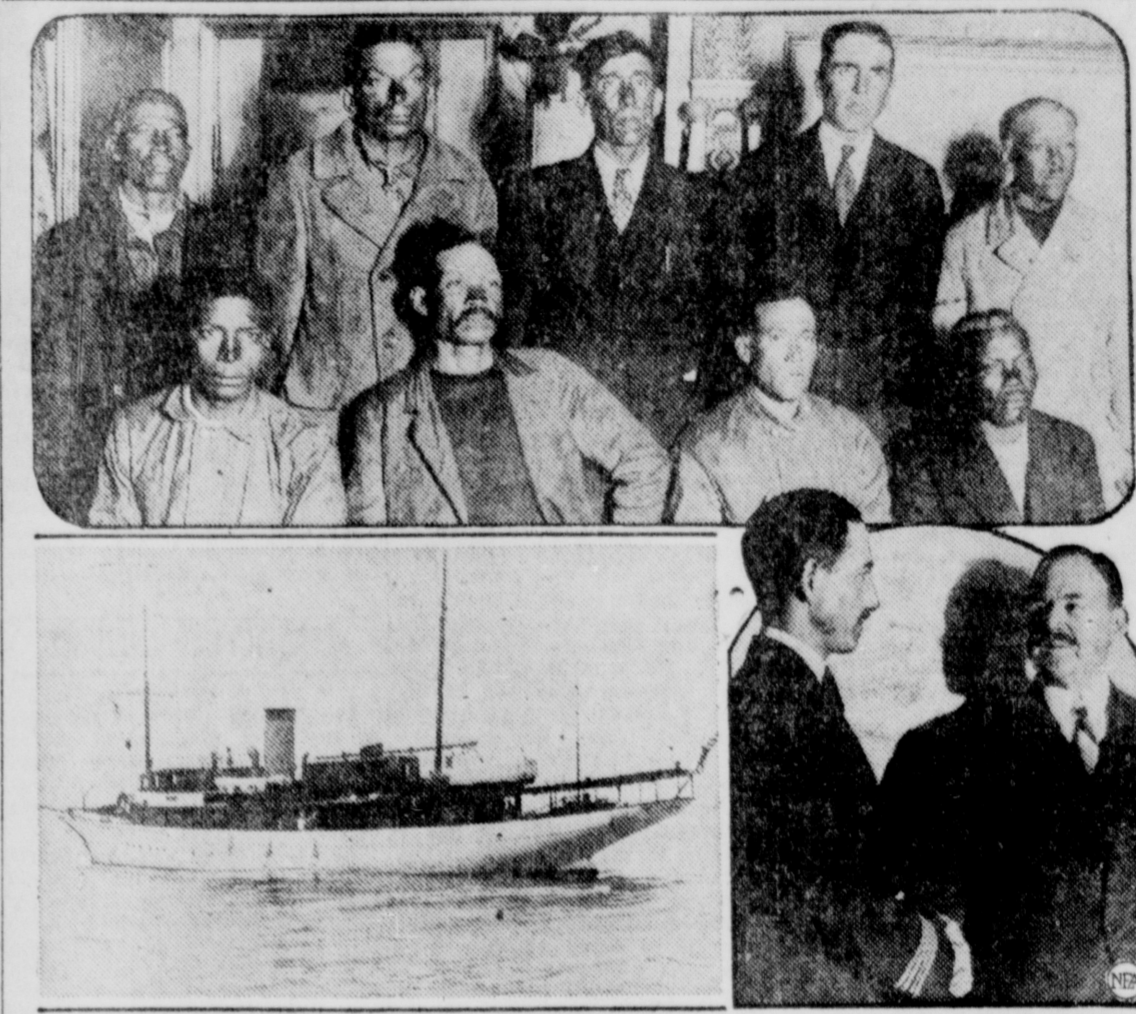

Starting at 2:45, six of the seven stunts will be run off. These will include a water tournament, in which a crew of one man and one woman from each division will fight on the lake for supremacy, the women rowing the boats and the men standing in the bows endeavoring to topple their adversaries into the water with the aid of a padded pole; costume change, where again a couple from each division will compete, being required to race to a suit case at a distant point, change certain outside clothing, re-pack the suit case and return to the starting point; potato race, in which two men and one woman from each division, all blindfolded, will compete with the others in trying to place in a box the lady will have, the most potatoes from a supply that will be scattered on the pavillion floor; base ball throwing, with four men from each division competing with one throw each with an indoor baseball, for distance; rolling pin throwing for four women from each division for distance and accuracy in throwing down a five foot alley, and linewalking, in which one entry from each division will be required to walk a chalk line while looking through an inverted pair of field glasses. The seventh contest, for the best couple, will be held during the dance after the picnic supper.

President Morrison announced that ribbons for winners of first and second places in the contests would be awarded this year. The special division stunts are planned to start at 4 o'clock and continue till the call to eat sounds at 5:30, with any that have not been presented before that time, to be given after supper before the dance begins at 7:30. A fine seven piece orchestra will furnish music for the dance, Morrison said.

An attractive menu has been prepared for the picnic, according to Morrison, who said that the committees were expecting some 500 guests at the affair, including the families and friends of the county workers. Reservations for the supper are made by ticket and must be in by the 21st.

CREW RESCUED AFTER NINE DAYS IN OPEN BOAT

Gaunt and bruised after nine days on tempestuous seas in an open lifeboat, the survivors of the foundered coal schooner James E. Coburn are shown above as they were brought to New York aboard the steam yacht Amida, lower left, which rescued them off Bermuda. Back row, left to right, are Andy Andrews; Ed Rice, mate; Capt. Joseph Periera; Joseph M. Mederos, and John Britto. Front row: Eugene Samedo, Joe Pelgado, Manuel Silva and Ambrose Mondoro. Capt. Sydney MacLaughlin of Amida, who saved the stranded crew after they were near death from lack of food and water, is pictured lower right being congratulated by Ernest Behrend, owner of the palatial yacht.

ALLEGED BOOZE DEALER, PRETTY FRIEND HELD

Beth Footch, 33, of Glendale, claimed to be inexplicably shocked today when she was arrested in Anaheim with F. C. Korb, 43, whom officers declare to be a wholesale liquor dealer from Los Angeles, who has been successful for some time in eluding arrest. Miss Footch, who was described as a beautiful brunette, told officers she only was out riding with Korb and indicated that she was as much astounded as the officers when they discovered a series of clever liquor compartments in the car opened by pressing electric buttons.

Officers Ray Barnett, Ross Sidbottom and N. A. Stevenson arrested the pair when they smelled a suspicious odor emanating from the automobile after it had been stopped because of an alleged traffic violation. They recognized Korb, they said, and were further convinced that he was a suspicious character when he became very nervous. An examination of the machine disclosed 13 quarts of whiskey stored away in compartments under the floor boards and behind the cushions, officers said. The booze was in one-gallon bottles.

The recent addition of three regulars to the post office force cleaned out the ranks of all available substitutes and made necessary the selection of other substitutes. Warren announced that the examinations would be conducted in two sections of 45 each, one at 9 a. m. and the other at 1 p. m. From four to six applicants will be chosen from those passing the examination to serve as substitutes.

BROTHERS BUY BIPLANE FROM EDDIE MARTIN

A Thomas-Morse biplane powered with an O-X-5 motor has just been sold by Eddie Martin, proprietor of the Martin airport, south of Santa Ana, to L. K. and C. E. Burrell. The Burrell brothers will keep the ship at the ranch of C. E. Burrell near Brea.

One of the brothers, L. K., is a machinist's mate, second class, attached to the U. S. S. Melville, a repair ship for navy destroyers. He has had training as a pilot and will teach the other brother to fly, according to Martin.

The Burrells are planning to use the plane for their personal pleasure and to put in sufficient time in the air to enable them to secure pilots' licenses, but are not contemplating entering the commercial side of aviation, Martin said.

The Public Forum

Communications under this heading must be signed by the name of the writer. These communications express the opinions of the writers of them. The opinions may or may not be the opinions of The Register.

WE DO NOT WANT HIGH DAMS. High dams are dangerous and a menace to the community. They can be easily dynamited by some crank, a leakage caused by a slight earthquake or the burrowing of small animals such as the gopher. The people living above the dam would not be getting any water to speak of.

High dams are dangerous in lots of ways. In war times they can be easily dynamited and people living below them are washed off into the ocean.

What we DO WANT, are small surface lakes dotted about the country. These, of course, should be of such depth as not to get into the ocean seepage. The use of plenty of cement would prevent this and keep our drain water fresh and pure, and also keep our drainways free from silt and mountain gravel sand. A surface lake every few miles would supply the needed water and would beautify the country. The dirt taken from these could be used to form banks or building wings to keep the water in its proper course. When one lake gets full, it gently flows into the next one below, and the people living near the mountains would get the same easy flow of water as the ones living nearer the ocean.

Our north states are dotted with little natural lakes. Our topography does not give us natural lakes but why cannot we dot California with artificial lakes? We have plenty of material to work with.

We have built Orange county groves without a high dam. I am speaking for the safety of every one. I have raised my dear children living in Orange county who are paying heavy taxes so please let me speak a word towards the safety of humanity in my own country. We have lived in Orange county nearly 20 years, we old timers have built up Orange county orange groves without a high dam.

ABOUT PRICES...

A Statement by THE PENNZOIL COMPANY

FOR years Pennzoil has sold at 35c a quart. "Thirty-five cents—and worth it!" has been demonstrated as plain fact by over a million motor car owners. And this price assured the Independent Dealer a fair margin of profit.

Steady increases in the cost of pure Pennsylvania crude, however, necessitate an increase in the price of Pennzoil to the Dealer. In order that he may continue earning a fair profit, a corresponding advance must be made in the retail price. Therefore...

Beginning Today MAY 10 PENNZOIL will be 37½c A QUART

To the individual motorist, this advance—only 2½ cents a quart—represents but a negligible increase in his lubricating cost. Measured in terms of performance Pennzoil remains the motor oil of truest economy.

To the Pennzoil Dealer, however, it means a margin of profit vital to the continuance of the varied and convenient services he renders that are so important to the motor car owner.

University Women Elect Officers for Next Year

Miss Martha Ehlen of Orange was elected president of the Orange county branch of the American Association of University Women last night at a business meeting that preceded the benefit party held in the peacock room at the Ebell club.

Other new officers that were elected included Mrs. Horace Scott vice president; Miss Bertha Selway, recording secretary; Miss Helen Kirkland, corresponding secretary; Miss Mabel Whiting, treasurer; Miss Maurine Sims, Mrs. Loyal King, Mrs. Ralph Liverspire, and Miss Anna Trythall directors.

Following the business meeting members of the association and their guests gathered about the card tables, finding their places by gay little springtime tallies that reflected the color of the many lovely flowers that had been arranged about the room by Miss Ruth Rowland, Miss Mary Swann and Miss Lulu Finley.

Following several delightful games, tallies were collected by Miss Myrtle Hunt and Miss Mildred Myers and when scores were added it was found that Mrs. Arthur Yarbrough and Miss Wilma Webster were high. They received attractive gifts as did Mrs. Will S. Kellogg whose score was nearest 500.

The delicious refreshments were served by a capable committee headed by Miss Irene Catland. Her assistants were Miss Florence Lindblom, Miss Stella Yocum, Mrs. Herman Powell, Miss Wilma Webster, Mrs. W. P. Reed, Miss Doris Schenk, Mrs. Oliver Davidson, Mrs. Robert Horn, Mrs. Loyal King, Mrs. Lynn Crawford and Mrs. Harold Grifton.

Others taking part in arranging for the affair included Mrs. Ralph Liverspire, Mrs. Ray Adkinson and Miss Louise Young, Miss Margaret Leedman, Miss Mary Safley, Miss Bertha Selway, Miss Helen Kirkland, Miss Maurine Sims, and Miss Mabel Whiting, who was general chairman of the committee.

Proceeds from the affair will be added to the Santa Ana junior college scholarship fund.

ORATOR EXTOLS MOTHERS AT LEGION'S ANNUAL CEREMONY

"That everlasting and divine significance of Motner," to quote Attorney Joe C. Burke, speaker at last night's meeting of Santa Ana Post 131, American Legion, formed the entire motif of a remarkable evening at which the Legion men honored their mothers both in reality and in spirit, and at the same time included those wonderful Gold Star mothers and wives who gave their dearest and best to their country.

This special celebration of the annual observance of Mother's day, has come to be an anticipated yearly feature with the Legion men, and last night's entertainment drew a crowd of approximately 175 Legionnaires and guests. Dinner was the first feature of the evening, and the long tables with their clusters of white and red blossoms, were inviting in appearance, especially after the menu of creamed chicken, hot biscuits and other delicacies prepared by the Legion auxiliary members, was served.

Carnations, white and red, were distributed at the door and each guest wore the sacred flower in memory of a mother present or "gone on a little while." S. J. Mustel, director of orchestra work in the city schools, presented the Santa Ana high school band in a series of patriotic numbers, of which "The Star Spangled Banner" was the most impressive, as everyone stood at attention. Director and young musicians were accorded an ovation at the close of their spirited features, which followed included some very delightful songs by the "Silver Singers," a quintet of girls from the Orange County School of Fine Arts, Anaheim, with their director, Mrs. Kate McCullah.

Talented Singers

The singers were Miss Wilma Silver, the Misses Ruth and Edna Hannigan, and the Misses Lois and Velda Dunham, and their appreciative numbers were "Can't You Hear Me Calling Caroline," by Roma; "My Little Banjo" by Dohmont; and "Dream Gypsies" by Redman. George Stinson, Orange county's famous "Singing Cop," met with enthusiasm in his rendering of popular songs beginning with "Mother Macdoree." Mrs. Ralph Adams was his accompanist, and the two were kept on the platform for a lengthy interval as the audience demanded more. Songs rendered included "Love Tales of Al-sace-Lorraine," "Marie," "Weary River," and "Just a Cottage Near."

Honor to Guests

To Mrs. Myrtle Cain, head of the Legion auxiliary, and a special guest of the evening, was accorded the honor of introducing the Gold Star mothers and wives present. This group of splendid mothers numbered Mesdames Iona Scott Sharp, E. H. Lamb, Martha Elliott, Mary Coal, H. P. Christensen, and Thomas E. Simmons, while the Gold Star wives were Mrs. Elsie Daley and Mrs. Harriett Bonnell.

Franklin G. West, commander of the post, presided at the dinner, and introduced one of the most highly honored guests, Mrs. Fannie M. Reeves, who was accorded the cheers that proved her place as "Mother" Reeves in the affections of "her boys." In her brief response she touched upon the priv-

Popular Santa Ana Girl Complimented at Pretty Tea

Miss Mary McFadden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. McFadden, of North Main street, who is to wed Garthwaite Hinds of Santa Cruz this month, was complimented yesterday afternoon at a smart tea held for her by Mrs. Herbert Walker of Orange, Mrs. J. T. Raitt, and Mrs. W. W. Hoy of this city, at the lovely Walker home.

A number of games and contests were enjoyed by the half hundred guests preceding the tea hour when Miss McFadden was presented with many fascinating packages containing useful articles for the home that she is to establish soon.

The dainty refreshment course was served at small tables and appointments were in lovely pastel tints of May time that were reflected in the many beautiful bouquets about the home.

Mothers Are Honored At Dinner Affair

Entertaining for their mothers, members of the junior auxiliary of the Friday Afternoon club of Costa Mesa were hostesses last night at a party given in the clubhouse.

The Misses Margaret Seebor, Helen Greeley and Alma Ogden were in charge of the affair. The tables were decorated in pink and white sweet peas, adding a colorful touch to the banquet. Individual corsages were also given to the mothers by the girls.

The feature of the program was a play in which Helen Saxton, Dorothy Morris, Jackie Schick, Little Ruth Summans, Georgia Croft and Martha Spaulding took part. Other numbers during the evening were some piano solos by Miss Martha Spaulding and vocal solos by Miss Georgia Croft.

Santa Ana Young Folk To Be Married Tomorrow

Miss Juliet Evans, pretty brunette daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Hamilton Evans of 2131 1-2 North Main street, is to become the bride of Harry Weaverling, son of Mr. and Mrs. Laurence H. Weaverling of San Francisco, tomorrow afternoon at a quiet ceremony to be performed by Judge Thomas Talbot.

Following the wedding, for which Miss Evans has chosen a becoming frock of blue and white with lace hat and other accessories in harmonizing tones, the young people will leave on a short honeymoon and on their return they will be established at 821 1-2 South Van Ness street.

Miss Evans is well known in this city where she attended the Santa Ana high school and junior college. While in high school she was a prominent member of the Forum club and she was also on the hockey team. Her ingenuity as a writer was given expression when she was made chairman of the senior will committee when she graduated in 1926. When a freshman in the junior college she was captain of the hockey team. At present she is employed at the Hollywood Apparel shop. Her father is principal of the Costa Mesa grammar school and is a well known musician.

Her fiancé is a graduate of the San Francisco polytechnic high school where he was prominent in school activities. He came to Santa Ana to attend the local junior college where he met Miss Evans and the romance that resulted in their engagement was started. He was president of the Men's organization of the college and he starred for two years on the junior college football team. He is a draftsman in the offices of W. W. Hoy, civil engineer.

Spirit of Merriment Presides Over Dance

The spirit of merriment presided over the delightful party that Santa Ana Masonic bodies held last night in the Rendezvous ball room at Balboa Beach. The affair was arranged by members of the lodge of this city, the Royal Arch Masons, the Commandery, No. 241, Silver Cord and Jubilee lodges.

As guests arrived for the affair they were greeted by a reception committee composed of Dr. James Farrage, W. V. Whitson, W. O. Patterson, C. F. Yelding and Orson Hunter.

While dancing was enjoyed in the ball room, many enjoyed the card games that were presided over by W. G. Pagenkopp. At the close of the evening, the scores were added and handsome gifts awarded Frank A. Wasson, W. V. Whitson, Mrs. Ida Miller, and Mrs. O. K. Carr.

Charles Hoffman, Carl Mock and Anna Cogan were in charge of dancing and they had arranged an interesting program of foxtrots, waltzes and feature numbers. During a feature dance, favors were distributed by Dr. R. O. Grover.

Refreshments were served by committees working under Gus Allen and J. Lansdowne. V. L. Clem and William Wollaston were in charge of the affair.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

Missionary

The Women's Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church held an enjoyable meeting Wednesday afternoon with the resident, Mrs. Harry Lewis, in the chair.

As the Spanish speaking people of this country and the work in Latin America are the subjects for consideration this month, the room was appropriately decorated with hand work from Mexico and South America.

A helpful devotional service was led by Mrs. Thomas S. Blair.

Mrs. Abbey who has been on the mission field for more than 40 years, and who is visiting her friend, Mrs. A. V. Gray, told of interesting experiences met in connection with her work. Mrs. Abbey saw the beginning of the missionary work in Nanking.

A group of girls and Miss Ward, one of the teachers from Forsythe Memorial school in Los Angeles were present. The girls presented a pageant illustrating the daily routine of school life and showed exceptional talent in the rendering of several songs.

Miss Florine Pollock, accompanied by her mother at the piano, sang "Hold Thou My Hand."

An impressive story was told by D. A. Barr of boys in the Cameroun District of Africa, who were anxious for a teacher and had faith to believe that prayer would bring them one.

Refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed after the program.

Pro Bono Class

The attractive new home of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Heemstra, of 1730 Fruit street, was thrown open in friendly hospitality to members and friends of the Pro Bono class of the United Presbyterian church. Spring flowers added their charm to the scene.

The class enjoyed a number of interesting games, and story telling. Mr. J. A. Smiley told of his trip recently via airplane to Sacramento.

The social committee, Mrs. Hogan, Mrs. Scott, Mrs. Fish, Harvey Allen, James Cook, served fruit, jelly, wafers and cocoa.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Smiley, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Elsie, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel McCaw, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Breckenridge, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Warren, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Gallo-way, Dr. and Mrs. W. H. McPeak, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Heemstra, Mrs. William Stevenson, Mrs. Anna Scott, Mrs. Eleanor Fish, Mrs. Henry Herring, Mrs. E. C. Noble, Mrs. C. E. Hogue, Mrs. Harvey Allen, Daniel Song.

Charming Hosts Preside At Delightful Affair

Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Winckler of 2210 North Park boulevard, presided over an attractively appointed dinner and bridge party which was held last night at the Santa Ana Country club.

The delicious dinner was served at tables centered with huge baskets of flowers in the glowing tints of early summer and the same bright colors were used in place cards and nut cups.

When bridge games were added at the close of the merry evening, it was found that Mr. and Mrs. Obrikot of Los Angeles were high while Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Jovenot were second and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hadden were third. Winners were rewarded with handsome gifts.

Out-of-town guests at the affair included Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smith of Hammond, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mayer of Los Angeles, and Mr. and Mrs. Franz Obrikot of Los Angeles.

Schoolgirls' Handwork To Be Placed on Sale

Everyone will remember the display of pretty linens, aprons, towels and other examples of needlecraft, offered over a year ago by the young girls of the County Juvenile home on East Fruit street, who placed their wares on sale at one of the downtown stores, in order to gain funds for purchasing more materials on which to work.

So successful was that first sale that Mrs. A. H. Dawson, matron of the home, has made arrangements to repeat it, and today the accumulation of pretty articles made in the meantime will go on sale in the F. C. Blauer grocery, 425 North Sycamore street. Reasonable prices have been placed on all pieces, and housewives may have the satisfaction of adding to their stock of neat kitchen aprons and their household linens at a nominal price, and at the same time know that they are encouraging these girls in their sewing efforts.

Mrs. May Cuddeback, matron of the girls' division of the school, has been instructor in the sewing classes, teaching the girls during their stay in the school. Many of them were totally unfamiliar with the use of needle and thimble, and their progress has been very pleasing to Mrs. Cuddeback and to Mrs. Dawson. Funds realized from the sale of the articles, are expended by the matron for new materials, so that the young needleworkers always have a bit of sewing to work on. It is the intention of the school heads to maintain the display as a permanent feature of the Blauer grocery.

Leonard Morris, Edwin Gerhardt and Wallace Grebe, students at the Santa Ana junior college have received notification of their acceptance to Stanford university. Graduating from the local junior college in June as sophomores, they will enter the northern university next fall as juniors.

Thelma Morehouse, junior student at the University of California at Berkeley, is home for the summer. Miss Morehouse is a graduate of the Santa Ana high school and was editor of the high school Generator.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Taylor of 2410 Bonnie Brae drive and W. H. Barton of Phoenix, Ariz., have left for Palo Alto to visit Wilfred Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Taylor, who is taking a post graduate course at Stanford university.

Fred Windler, Mason Yould, B. D. Parker and Eddie West left for Fresno today to attend the annual tournament of the Pacific Coast Bowling congress. They will be joined there tomorrow by H. M. Secret, H. C. Snow and W. R. Heath. Both parties will motor north.

Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Mead have moved from St. Ann's Inn, where they have been staying the past winter, to 2366 Riverside drive.

Club Entertained

Members of an embroidery club to which Mrs. J. N. Wheeler of 522 South Ross street belongs were entertained by her yesterday afternoon in delightful fashion. Following an afternoon of chat and sewing, a dainty refreshment course was served by the hostess.

In the white uniform of a research worker, Dr. R. Sabin of Rockefeller was photographed at her other day, and her photo flashed the country over. ### Take Some Years Off Your Feet

If the woman over 30 would give as much time to the grooming and dressing of her FEET as she does to the application of make-up, she could take several years off her apparent age. Feet, to me, tell one's age more accurately than do faces. A chiropodist should be visited at regular intervals. A marcel less permits this necessary attention . . . it is better to be minus a curl on one's head than to have a callous too many on one's foot. Once a week at least give the feet a special bath, using an astringent (alum or boric acid does nicely). After the bath massage the feet well with cold cream and attend to nails and calloused skin. Finish by dusting the feet with a good foot powder, one that helps control excessive perspiration.

Don't buy stockings too short in the foot. This fault is sure to make trouble; bunions can be di- rectly traced to short-footed stock- ings.

Low comfortable shoes for the house, the grooming outlined above, and you can wear the Frenchest of heels and not have to hobble from the corner to your welcoming front door!

WISE OLD DAME

Old Dame Nature is smart in other ways than in the mere prop- agation of the race, in which she excels. She is equally smart in producing men and women with an urge to dedicate their lives to some direct goal for the good of mankind—a good more far-flung than the one of happy personal relationships generally chosen as their channel of life by the ma- jority of persons.

Unfortunately, she is not so clever that she is able to make human beings, women especially, who start out with a bent for the impersonal life of ministering to all humanity rather than to just their own possessive fragment of it, and who, content with that in their earlier years, reach out for nothing more warmly and com- fortably personal until it is too late, content with the bare knowl- edge that their life has meant much to countless thousands. Rare indeed is the woman who does not know in her heart of hearts that she would much have preferred it to count with just one or two who were her own.

At the Theatres

YOST BROADWAY

Laura La Plante will be seen at the Broadway theater today in a dramatic talking picture en- titled "Scandal," based on "The Haunted Lady," a society scandal story by Adela Rogers St. Johns. Universal has made it into a talk- film of unusual intensity, with Huntly Gordon, John Boles and Jane Winton among the leading principals.

The story tells how a girl of moderate circumstances rises her position and marries a wealth- y society favorite. Then comes a hand from the past to drag her back and she finally is forced to risk her husband's respect by bar- ring a scandalous situation, or see a third party go to prison un- justly. How she faces this deci- sion makes one of the strongest scenes ever screened.

Miss La Plante has a wistful voice of great appeal. John Boles, former musical comedy favorite, is ideal as a speaking and singing screen star. Included in the cast are Eddie Phillips, Nancy Dover and Julia Swayne Gordon. The picture was photographed at Santa Barbara, Cal., with many of that resort's millionaire colony enact- ing "extra" roles.

WEST END

"Cheyenne," Ken Maynard's lat- est starring western vehicle for First National Pictures, is on the West End bill today.

"Cheyenne" is a real honest-to- godness rodeo, trick riding, stage coach races and other events that go to make these shows the most popular of all outdoor attractions.

The picture tells of a young man whose greatest ambition is to compete in the Wyoming round- up. There are plenty of obstacles put in his path, including the girl and the opposition faction. There are wild rides down the main street of Cheyenne, compe- titive riding and racing under the

WEST COAST-WALKER

Karl Dane and George K. Ar- thur are together again in "All at Sea," which is now playing at the Walker theater as a new Metro- Goldwyn-Mayer comedy feature. After this famous pair of fun- ners made "Brotherly Love," they were separated for awhile, Dane playing with William Haines in "Alias Jimmy Valentine," and Ar- thur taking a vacation jaunt to Europe.

The new laugh-maker is a story of navy life. Josephine Dunn, who was last seen in "Excess Baggage" and "The Singing Fool," is the leading lady, playing the role of a heart-breaker who causes the two gobs to stage a private war of their own. Alf Goulding, who has several comedy successes to his credit, among them "Excuse Me" and "Don't," directed.

The film is replete with thrills as well as laughs, a 16-inch gun target practice and a spectacular arsenal explosion furnishing hair- raising moments of suspense. There is also a thrilling and melodra- matic fire, which calls out a mob of marine extras to quench it. During this sequence both Dane and Arthur make some spectacular rescues.

LAGUNA FIRE CHIEF IN GRASS WARNING

LAGUNA BEACH, May 10.—That there are penalties for following fire apparatus when it is responding to alarms, that the burning of grass from lots must not be undertaken without a permit and that there are penalties when fire is allowed to spread and damage other properties are warnings issued by Fire Chief Peter Bushman.

With the grass now dry enough to become inflammable and fire calls likely to be more numerous than in past months, the chief is anxious to have the department allowed to function without interference. Curious residents have allowed their desire to be first at the fires to cause them to interfere with the department when it is answering calls. He points out the 350 fine which may be imposed for getting closer than 50 feet of fire apparatus when the latter is in use.

An effort is also being made to educate citizens in the proper method of turning in alarms. The system is to notify the telephone operator, who summons the volunteer department by means of a siren, giving information as to the location of the fire to the first fireman who answers the telephone in the fire house. He directs the others.

The cash prizes offered by Harold F. McCormick for gardens less than a year old and gardens over a year old, both tended by owners and not by professionals, and a cup given by Mr. Coy for the handsomest garden in Laguna Beach, will be awarded during the flower show, according to plans made by the committee.

Entries for the garden contest, which offers a total of $85 in cash prizes, and for the flower exhibition must be in not later than May 10.

ANAHEIM CLUB HEARS TALK ON EARLY PIONEER

ANAHEIM, May 10.—The Rev. Father St. John O'Sullivan, of San Juan Capistrano, was the speaker at the regular meeting of the Business and Professional Women's club in the Elks' clubhouse last night. Choosing as his subject, Don Jose Francisco de Ortega, Father O'Sullivan carried his listeners back to the days when the history of early California was in the making.

Don Jose was the road builder and pathfinder of Southern California, the speaker said. As the new Elsinore-San Juan Capistrano highway is to be named for him, it is particularly appropriate at this time to bring his history from the mists of the past and place it before those who live in the land in which he helped to establish settlements, he said.

Little is known by the general public of the life of Don Jose, said the speaker. Mrs. Albert Frahm spoke on the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs. An enjoyable pianologue was given by Mrs. E. C. Kendrick, Miss Ruth Taunton was the program chairman.

BACON

Among the ancients, especially the Greeks and Romans, bacon was noted as a savory dish. It was early regarded as a delicacy and found favor as such on the tables of those in higher ranks of social life. Gradually the taste for bacon spread down from the upper ranks of society until it was staple among soldiers and then among the plain people of Rome and Greece, and to this day it is regarded as one of the favorite dishes of all classes.

HARD WATER, PLUS MELO MAKES SOFT WATER.

Very dirty pans?
No, very hard water

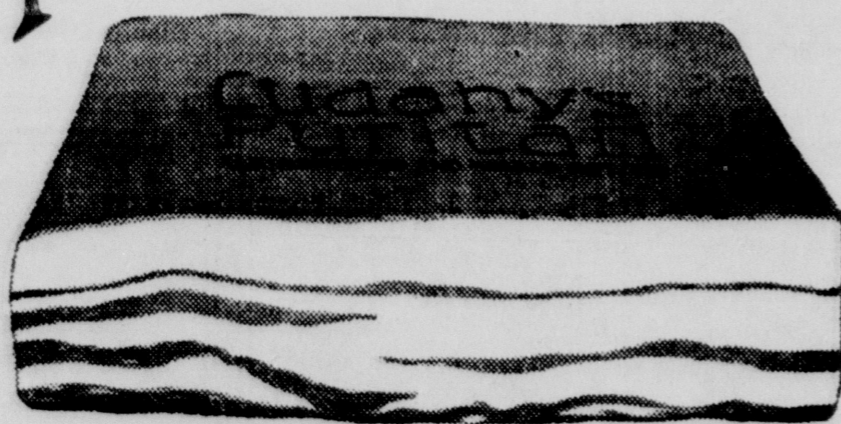

The pots and pans weren't very greasy.
But the water was hard. It mixed with the soap, and formed scum! How could pots and pans get clean! They just had to stay greasy! They needed a cleaner!

That was before Melo's time. Now hard water, softened with Melo, becomes a very fine cleaner, with or without soap. Dirty ring? Scum?
Grease? All gone. Soap much more effective! Pots and pans? Shiny and gleaming! At 10c a can you can afford to buy three—one for the kitchen,
laundry, and bathroom.

Finer Flavor

Cudahy's Puritan Bacon is unrivaled.
Finer flavor and greater tenderness have made it famous.

Puritan owes its distinguished qualities to the special method of curing these choice young meats. This method diffuses the rich meat juices in a natural way without forcing or hurrying. It is therefore uniformly sweet, mild, tender and delicious. Broiled or fried, its very aroma tempts even the most delicate appetite.

Try Puritan and see how good it is—a tempting, wholesome, nutritious food, easily digested;
fine for growing children as well as for grown-ups.
Puritan Bacon is a delightful adjunct in the preparation of meat dishes, salads, etc. At your dealer's.

THE KNYMITES
STORY BY NAL COCHRAN — PICTURES BY KNICK
REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The baker said, "Well, howdy do! I'm pleased at meeting all of you. I'm always fond of little chaps, and you are surely small. You've come to have me bake some bread? Well, shortly I will go ahead and put it in the oven just to try and please you all."

"Oh my, but you are very kind," said Scouty, "and, if you don't mind, we'd like to help you if there is a thing that we can do. We're always glad to do our share, and honestly we do not care how hard it is. It's really fun to work at something new."

The baker smiled and said, "Let's see. If you insist on helping me, three of you kids can build the fire that makes my oven heat. The other one with me can go and sift the flour that makes my dough. Then shortly we will have some bread that you will find a treat."

Then Clowny shouted, "I will sift. I guess I'm not too small to lift the sifter that the flour comes from. At least I'm going to try. The rest of you can gather wood. Be sure you light a fire that's good. I'm sure you'll find some kindling if you'll search both low and high."

So, while the other merry three got just as busy as could be, wee Clowny trailed the baker till they reached a table tall. "Climb up it," said the baker man. "Get up on top. I'm sure you can. The sifter is all ready and it won't be hard at all."

Then Mister Baker mixed the dough. Of course it had to be just so, and Clowny was real careful to be sure he sifted right. At last the dough was nicely set, and Mister Baker said, "I'll bet my bread is going to turn out fine. Real tasty, brown and light."

(The bread is baked in the next story.)

Mothers Are Honored by Legionnaires

age and duty of the post members, of honoring and remembering their mothers, especially at this time of the year sacred to all others, and closed her remarks with a charming bit of verse ending with "You are my friends."

Eloquent Address

The climax of the evening was reached with the introduction of Mrs. C. Burke, one of the Southland's most famous orators, "Mother the maker of man," he declared, "father is the home itself, and home is the very foundation of a nation, a fact which congress recognized when this one day of a year, the second Sunday in May, was set aside as 'Mother's Day.'"

"The illustrious mother! Our lives are filled with histories of great men, but behind the biography of even the greatest, we find that of his mother." And in an interesting and dramatic manner, the speaker cited one after another of the eminent Americans who have contributed to statesmanship, art, science, literature, and, and then pointed to the other whose love, courage and character had contributed to his life. John Quincy Adams, the son of a president, but also the son of Abigail Adams whose ideals led him on the path of statesmanship. Daniel Webster, one of the greatest orators of all time, whose uracious mother mortgaged her home to give him the college education that her discerning eye saw would bring out his greatness; Benjamin West whose fame as a painter followed a boyhood in a Quaker home, where a mother's faith in his genius, overcame the scruples of her religion and bade her aid him in acquiring education in art.

Washington's early training by his devoted mother, Mary Bell

Washington, taught him the obedience which in turn taught him leadership; Andrew Jackson, "the most hated and the most beloved man in American history" whose mother nursed typhoid cases through the Revolutionary war, and inspired him by her courage and splendid character; Lincoln, the "ideal American citizen," whose greatness of spirit was a direct heritage from Nancy Hanks; Edison the inventor, Carnegie, the man of wealth, were cited, and finally, what the speaker declared to be one of the most beautiful episodes in our history, the inauguration of James A. Garfield, and his first act after taking the oath of office, in turning to kiss the white-haired little mother to whom he gave all credit for his exalted position.

"These were no sweeter mothers than the ones that God gave you and me," the speaker declared, "I care not where you may be, it is your sacred duty as it is mine, to send a greeting to your mother on this day of all days. And if she has gone on into the spirit world, you should on Sunday night, stand by bowed head and offer up a prayer in memory of the dignity, the tenderness and grandeur, the everlasting and divine significance of Mother."

NEW YORK STOCKS

By ELMER C. WALZER
United Press Financial Editor
NEW YORK, May 10.—(U.P.)—Bullish developments in the news brought stock market prices up in the early dealing today.

Gains at the outset ranged from fractions to nearly four points and the entire list participated in the rise. Wright Aero rose 3 1/2 to 142. Westinghouse Electric 3 1/2 to 162 1/2. General Railway Signal 1 1/2 to 114 1/2. Radio corporation a point to 100 1/2. Hudson Motors 3/4 to 30 1/2.

Reinstatement of John J. Rash, president of the General Motors Finance Company, a 30 cent extra dividend on general Motors; an increase of $19,000,000 in brokerage loans; a retention of the New York rediscount rate also helped the market.

EVENING SALUTATION

The crest and crowning of all good,
Life's final star, is Brotherhood.
—Edwin Markham.

CLUB WOMEN REVISE LAWS

California women have reached an accord on the matter of convention representations. Under the revised plan, to which the delegates agreed, those clubs with membership below fifty will be allowed two delegates, including the president; clubs over that number and up to one thousand are allowed a delegate for each fifty members. The plan permits the larger clubs to wield considerable power and influence. One large club of one thousand members may have as many delegates as ten smaller clubs.

As in the state legislature, the domination of the large city clubs has been feared in the state organization. It has been feared by the club women generally that the women of the city clubs would not appreciate the problems of the women in the smaller places. This has worked out elsewhere in the matter of dues. Small rural clubs often represent a far more vital need in the lives of their membership than do the larger clubs—for that reason it has been the aim to keep the dues within the reach of women of limited means who appreciate the club work. Yet the state federation, by raising the state dues, can burden the members of these small and sometimes poorer clubs too greatly.

While this will place in the Los Angeles district a great power looking toward the control of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, yet it is to be expected that the good of the club, rather than the geographical location of the individual, will be the controlling factor in elections. And if this should not prove true, the outside districts have always the power of "revolution," namely, withdrawal. But certainly it is best to try out, for a while, the real spirit of democracy rather than be governed by the fear of numbers in a congested district when such fear breeds misunderstanding and division.

The women, however, have agreed to get together. They are to be commended for their spirit of co-operation and the broadmindedness which has led them to try a plan which many of them fear deeply. Now it remains for the women of the larger clubs, with dominating delegations, to prove their understanding and helpfulness.

Gene Tunney, vacation companion of George Bernard Shaw in Italy, refused to discuss Shaw with reporters. Oh, well, Shaw himself can take care of that well enough.

Y. W. C. A. PLANS FOR FUTURE

With the news of the new block to be built on Main street, was included the announcement of the new Y. W. C. A. quarters which will be in the second story of the Fifth and Main street structure.

The new quarters will include a large club room which will have a seating capacity of one hundred fifty persons, with a stage, a dining room seating fifty, offices, kitchen and several reception rooms, with a total floor space fifty by one hundred fifty feet.

There is no organization in Santa Ana with the same degree of worthiness which has as modest quarters at this time. Because of financial disability, the Young Women's Christian Association at present is in the position of hiding its light under a bushel. It is shining out in work and deeds, however. People who should be lending that organization moral support and enough financial support to permit attractive quarters, don't even know where it is located. The new location will make possible a group of rooms arranged especially to meet the social needs of the Young Women's Christian Association, conveniently located, and a rendezvous of which the young women can be proud.

It is requiring some temerity for the administrators of the Y. W. C. A. to advance upon these plans for the new Y. W. C. A. quarters, but they have faith in the people of Santa Ana to support a worthy cause which will be increasingly needed as the city expands.

We are glad that they have decided to take advantage of the opportunity this building affords them and feel confident that their needs will be met and their organization supported, so that they will never feel that this step should not have been taken.

IT MUST BE CORRECTED

The new tariff bill just reported by the Ways and Means committee of Congress, will have pretty rough sledding to even get a fair start in the race for passage unless it is very greatly changed.

While we have not had the opportunity of making comparisons of differences effected in the measure, yet it is very clear from news coming from Washington that the interests which are primarily protected are the Eastern manufacturers, and the farmers, particularly the farmers of the Far West, have been entirely forgotten. Some of the products of California, such as figs and olive oil, receive no consideration whatever, and almonds receive only about half of the protection needed to permit them to even approach a basis of competition with the peasant labor of Italy.

There appears today a wave of indignation coming up from the Middle West and Far West of our country that will spell disaster to the tariff bill. We cannot understand why the representatives of the party did not keep, to some extent, their promises to the farmers in mind. Of course, it may be amended and changes effected, but it is to be presumed that there was quite a complete discussion of these matters prior to this report. We doubt if our own Senators and Representatives need any appeals from our people, but at the same time, it will do no harm to let them know our opinion in the matter.

"DON'T MOVE DAY"

In Chicago this year they tried to substitute a "Don't Move Day" for May 1 which has become a terrible day for landlords because of the wholesale movings. We wonder how the landlords promoting the "Don't Move Day" kept out of war with the moving men. They had good reason for encouraging the movings.

GOODWILL PARTIES TO RUSSIA

Those who tried to enter Russia a few years ago will recall how difficult it was to get a visa which would admit the tourist into that country. One had to belong to some radical society or have a pedigree thoroughly acceptable to the Foreign Office in Moscow to obtain one. And then it was a matter of three months of waiting around the Russian embassy in Paris, London or Berlin.

All this is of the past. Russia wants visitors, wants many of them; wants them, probably, to show how finely things are moving in Russia, or, possibly, like Italy and France, Russia needs the tourists' money. At any rate, they want visitors in Russia, and lots of them. There are no less than half a dozen tourist agencies in New York and Chicago which are advertising to take tourist parties to Russia the coming summer, and at figures which are really a bargain. Russia is a big country of magnificent distances. It is a long way from the United States to a Russian port, but for less than $1,000, as cheaply as $500 or $600, the tourist may see a good part of Russia. The Soviet government will furnish all the help necessary. Visas are free.

It is to be hoped that many will go. It is to be hoped that many who are unsympathetic with the Soviet government will go. Seeing for ourselves is highly desirable. The parties which have been taken to Mexico have done much toward understanding Mexico. The same will be true if such parties go to Russia. It now looks as if we are on the eve of giving Russia American recognition. Senator Borah is about to introduce his resolution in the Senate calling for it. We predict that if there is no great opposition from the people of the country, the Hoover government will move in that direction. It will have to come sooner or later. We cannot remain officially aloof from a country of over 150,000,000 people, simply because they have a different form of government. No American can have much sympathy with the Fascism of Italy. There are some people who would like to try it here in the United States, but they will have to wait a good while.

So, on the whole, we look with favor on these goodwill parties to Russia. It is an opportunity to watch the "greatest experiment in government" since the adoption of the American Constitution. We would not compare the two governments, but it may be well to recall that our government, at its birth, was looked upon with the same fear by the rulers of the world as the world now looks upon the Russian experiment. We are certain that no government inimical to the rights of all its citizens can endure.

Prosperous Europe Is America's Need

—Pasadena Star-News

The brotherhood of man is being exemplified in many ways—perhaps in no way more strikingly than in the mutual needs and the mutual dependence nations and peoples have with reference to their products and the normal exchange of these products, following the law of supply and demand.

Any notion that any American may entertain that it helps this country for Europe not to prosper, or that it harms this country for Europe to prosper, is as far off as is the person who seems to think that it does not pay to live the Golden Rule.

The outstanding problem confronting American overseas business still is "unquestionably the recovery of Europe, both as a customer and as a competitor." This is the opinion of Dr. Julius Klein, assistant Secretary of Commerce, who recently was in Europe attending a trade conference. Whatever affects the economic stability and well of Europe is of great importance. He says that "the profound, literally world-wide, significance of any progress made toward settlement of the reparations question requires no argument; the repercussions of such a fundamental strengthening of the economic status of the Old World would penetrate to every farmer and factory in this country."

The United States, it should be remembered, sells about $1,000,000,000 worth of its agricultural products yearly in Europe, and sells almost as much of wholly or partly fabricated wares. These two items represent about 45 per cent of America's total exports. Any prolonged impairment of Europe's economic activity and healthful functioning reacts hurtfully upon the United States and its economic interests. Thus is evidenced the need of universal brotherhood, of universal co-operation, of the Golden Rule applied by nations and peoples in their commercial interchanges.

Drinking Ourselves Into National Prosperity

—San Bernardino Sun

Representative Black, of New York, in a learned disquisition on the cause of farm distress and the remedy for it from the New York viewpoint, said that the distress is a result of the loss of a market for gain at the brewery and distillery and the added taxes that must be paid because the government, Federal and local, has lost the revenue from the tax on liquor and the saloon license. He showed how many hundreds of millions of dollars annually of such revenue formerly flowed into the official coffers that do not now go there. If we only made a lot of our corn and rye into whisky and beer there would be no surplus crop and prices would be good, is his contention, while the tax on the stuff and the rakeoff from what was spent for drink would lower taxes.

This is a recrudescence of the arguments used in the old local option days. In the mind of every true economist that argument has had the burial service said over it. However, it may be new in New York, where the idea that things are not all right on the farm is in itself new. They have not known much more cared much about the farm and the farmer in New York. The idea that the farmers would be better off if the consumers of their products spent billions of dollars for drink instead of for food and clothing and a higher standard of living generally may appeal to a few who think only of the immediate market for their grain, but not to the great body of rural intelligence.

As for taxpayers generally, the argument that they should pay $100 for drink in order that $10 of it may go into the public revenues, taking that $100 from the other uses to which it might be put for the benefit of their families, is not likely to make a strong appeal. Most of them would prefer to pay the $10 in direct taxes and have the remaining $90 to spend for something of better value to the family than drink. No nation ever drank itself into prosperity and we may be sure none ever will.

TO MY ANNUAL ROBIN

Last year, the year before as well,
With twigs you fluttered to and fro
To build a house in which to dwell
Above my antique portico.
About stood many spreading trees,
Which Nature reared for such as you
But you considered none of these
Would do.

Each year, the cat observed your toil
His eyes aglow with greenish flame,
And marked your nest for future spoil
What time the little strangers came.
Each year, when with a sated purr
He stretched himself upon the floor
I knew your gentle fledglings were
No more.

But yet, now Spring again is here—
Which, annually is the case—
Your perilous abode you rear
Exactly in the same old place.
From which your babes might be torn
Before they ever learn to fly,
Poor, futile creatures, only born
To die.

I know not if you're fool or knave
Your deeds are hard to reconcile,
I've never seen a bird behave
In such an unexampled style.
But if infatigable plot
Lurks in your breast it must fall flat,
Because this year we haven't got
A cat.

Is Money A Standard of Value?

By WILLIAM TRUFANT FOSTER and WADDILL CATCHINGS

NOTE.—Dr. Foster, eminent economist, is head of the Pollak Foundation for Economic Research; Mr. Catchings, renowned banker, began his career as a law clerk. The two have studied economics in all its phases, from the scientific viewpoint and from the practical. The keynote of their writings is: Prosperity can be made permanent.

When you visit Washington go to the Bureau of Standards and take a look at the "standard yard." It is kept, at uniform temperature, in a glass case. You will have to view it through a telescope. You will not be allowed to go near it, lest the heat of your body change the length of the bar one ten-thousandth part of an inch.

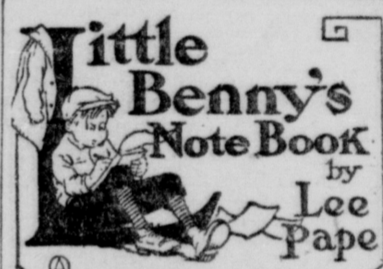

How ridiculous it would be to use, in place of this standard yard, the waist measurement of the President of the United States. How the "standard" would have changed from Taft to Wilson, and from Coolidge to Hoover! Yet, at one time, the yard actually did vary with the girths of the chieftains.

Even now, the so-called MONEY "standards" of the world vary far more than that—more than the belt measures of the Fat Lady and the Living Skeleton at the circus. The United States dollar, for example, was worth less than half as much in 1920 as it was worth in 1913. That is why we use index numbers of prices. They measure changes in the buying power of the dollar.

Nobody needs an index number to keep track of the length of the yardstick. The yardstick is a true standard. Money is not. But in the past five years—thanks, largely, to the Federal Reserve System—the dollar in the United States has changed very little in purchasing power. It has come pretty near to being a true standard of value.

Tomorrow—Is Gold a Standard of Value?

(Copyright, 1929, McClure Newspaper Syndicate)

I was kind of slow getting out of bed this morning on account of falling back to sleep more times than usual, and the more I got dressed the more I didn't feel like going to school, and I went down to breakfast saying to ma, G. ma, I'll be late for school.

You will if you don't hurry, that's a guaranteed certainty, ma said, and I said, Well gosh, ma, I will even if I hurry like grease lightning, that's just a trouble, ma, jimminy crickets nobody has been late in our class all this week and holey smokes I don't want to be just the one that has to be late and go and spoil the record. G. wiz ma, I think how all the fellows would look at me, think of the disgrace, G. winners, ma, I'd feel fierce, it would be awful, me. G. roozle, ma, you wouldn't want me to brake the record of the whole class, would you? I said.

O don't take it so to hart, the world izent coming to an end for a few minnits at least, ma said, and I said, Well G. ma, yes it is, I mean its important, ma. If Im late it will be a fierce trick to play on the whole class, but if I don't go at all it wont matter, and this afternoon you can give me a excuse note for this morning, I said. I aint thinking about myself, Im thinking about the rest of the class, I said.

Thats very noble of you indeed, and as long as your aims are so unselfish I think Ill let you stay home and make a little order out of kayos down in the cellar, ma said. Those old newspapers down there have been lying around waiting to be piled up since the invention of printing, she said, and I said, Aw G. ma, good nite.

Whats a matter now? ma said, and I said, I was just thinking I bet I can get to school on time if I hurry up like the dickins as fast as the dooce.

Wich I started to do, eating my breakfast so fast I only ate half of it, and I ran all a ways to skool and got in my seat just wen the last bell was ringing.

Proving what you do genrally depends on what you wouldnt rather do.

Thoughts On Modern Life

THE FAMILY DOCTOR

In all fields of modern enterprise we are facing the problem of the perils of specialization.

The highest achievements of modern life are due to the fact that modern science has given us the specialist.

But humanity has a habit of swinging from extreme to extreme.

The old generalist sinned on the side of superficiality, but the modern specialist is sinning on the side of fractionalism.

Nowhere is this more evident than in the field of medicine.

When all is said and done the doctor must treat patients, not parts of patients.

A patient may be examined by ten specialists, and the result of their examinations will have a depth and breadth and accuracy that would be impossible apart from intensive specialization, but the patient may die unless the separate findings of the separate specialists are seen in their relation and results in sound conclusions respecting treatment of the patient not as an aggregation of organs but as an organism.

I should like to say to the thousands of young men who, reading this column, may be thinking of medicine as a career, that humanity needs great general practitioners, great family doctors.

I am convinced that the greatest opportunities in medicine today lie in the field of general practice.

For one thing, there is a dearth of great practitioners; quick returns in money have proselytized the average medical student worship at the altars of specialization.

Even in cold terms of a great opportunity knocks at the door of the man who can see a patient as a unity, sustain intimate relations with him over long periods, make diagnoses that take into account all the factors in his body, his habits, and his heredity.

The general practitioner has chance to study disease that rarely comes to the specialist.

He can know whole families and know the tangled forces of heredity that focus in the individual.

He can know the individual over a long stretch of years, not brief hours of examination.

He can know the long-term results of treatment.

We need the specialized practitioner, we need the consultant, but we need also the general practitioner.

It is very important that young men considering medicine as a career should realize that to be a general practitioner does not necessarily mean being shunted off into the meager life of a rural pill peddler, but that we are at point in the evolution of medicine when the situation cries aloud for a new race of highly trained general practitioners.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

ON THE WRONG FOOT

"My little boy has failed to gain weight. He won't eat for me. He seems healthy enough. He eats what he wants all right, sleeps all right, doesn't get too high marks in school but gets along. But he won't come up to weight."

This was a little splinter of a boy who quivered like a speckled trout. Who ever saw a stout trout. And some children are just like trout—slippery and full of life, sparkling, colorful, and forever beyond the reach of a clutching hand.

Mickie was up bright and early and about the business of the day with swift dispatch. He had half a glass of orange juice, he hated prunes. He ate two tablespoons of oatmeal porridge with butter. He would not eat it if milk were poured on it. A slice of toast with butter, piping hot. If it was cold toast he left it on his plate. Half a glass of cold water—and away he dashed.

"Come back, come back," cried mother, grabbing his disappearing person wherever her hand found lodging. "You haven't washed your hands nor brushed your teeth."

Mickie groaned, grunted, scowled, staggered into the bathroom, gave his hands a dip in the water, wrung them in the towel, ran a tooth brush across his teeth and dove toward the door once more.

"Wait, wait, come here. Take your cod liver oil. Yes, you must. You're under weight. All right. If you don't take it, you'll stop right in this house, until you do. That's all."

Mickie began to kick and cry. Mother began to coax and scold. After 20 minutes of turmoil Mickie spluttered down some cod liver oil and went weeping to school, a late mark staring him in the face and threatening him with a half hour detention time just when he wanted to play.

"I make you a present of a major captain and two lieutenants of the regular establishment of George the Third. I hope the may serve as ransom for some of our friends at Boston."

TODAY IS THE ANNIVERSARY

ALLEN AT TICONDEROGA

How the lack of rapid means of communication helped the American colonists in their struggle for freedom is graphically illustrated by the Revolutionary War episode of which today is the anniversary—the capture of Ticonderoga by Ethan Allen on May 10, 1775.

This isolated, but important, storehouse of British supplies surrendered to the Americans before the garrison stations there knew that a war was in progress, although the battle of Lexington had been fought more than three weeks before.

The strength of Allen's attack lay in the fact that it was such a complete surprise, for his "army" consisted of less than 100 "Green Mountain boys." Benedict Arnold, who later was to become a traitor, played a valiant part under Allen in the attack.

The next day Allen sent a note to the governor of Connecticut, telling him in this whimsical fashion of the prisoners he has taken:
